ARMY PLANE LANDS IN HAWAII

Non-Stop Flight Across Pacific Is Accomplished

Maitland And Hegenberger Arrive In Honolulu At 9:05 Pacific Coast Time

MAKE GOOD TIME ON ENTIRE HOP

Great Reception Is Given Fliers As They Swoop Down On Landing Field

(Bulletin)
(International News Service)

HONOLULU, June 29.—The Pacific has been "Lindberghed".

Swooping down on Wheeler field at 9:05 a. m. Pacific coast time, Lieutenants Lester Maitland and Albert Hegenberger completed the first non-stop flight between the Pacific coast and the Hawaiian Islands.

From take-off at 7:08 a. m., Pacific coast time, at Oakland, Cal., until it landed here, it had taken the big trimotored Fokker army plane 26 hours to negotiate the 2,400 landless miles stretching between the mainland and the islands.

Escorted from at sea by a squadron of army planes which had taken the air an hour earlier to greet them off shore, the big olive green Fokker made a pretty landing at Wheeler field, where a great welcome awaited from a huge crowd which had waited all night, and lifted a mighty shout as they circled the field, and a salute of welcome was fired by guns at Schofield barracks.

Army, navy and civilian officials were waiting to grasp the hands of the intrepid aviators as they ended their long aerial journey and added a new chapter to man's conquest of the air.

Governor Wallace Farrington, Mayor Charles Arnold, Admiral John McDonald, Edward Lewis, commander of the Department of Hawaii, and brother officers were first to pay their homage to the valor of the two youthful fliers who had established that Hawaii is only a little more than 24 hours from the mainland.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 29.—With San Francisco far behind and Honolulu the goal, within striking distance, the giant army Fokker monoplane was roaring over the Pacific Ocean early today.

Piloted by Lieut. Lester Maitland and navigated by Lieut. Hegenberger, the monoplane took off from the Oakland municipal airport at 7:08 o'clock yesterday morning.

The plane was expected to reach Wheeler field between 4 and 5 o'clock this morning, Pacific coast time.

The big monoplane—christened "The Bird of Paradise"—got away on a perfect take-off.

A few moments later it was dron-

CHICAGO JUDGE GIVES "DON'TS" FOR WIVES

CHICAGO, June 29.—Judge Joseph Burke of the domestic relations court, has had experience in domestic ways. To keep out of his court, he suggests some "don'ts" for women.

"Don't underestimate the influence of good food upon a man's disposition," he counsels.

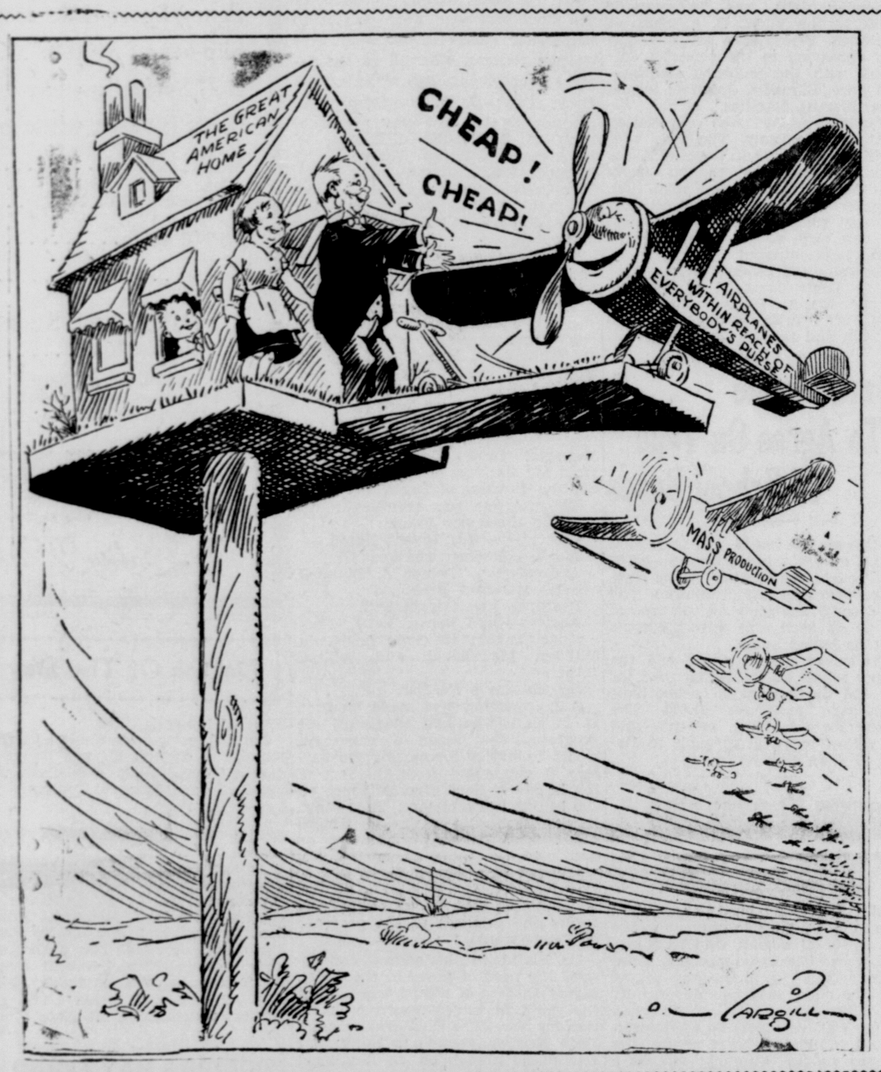

"Don't complain if your husband wants a night out. If you do, the day will soon come when you will wish he'd take it.

Don't bother him at night with the petty details of housekeeping.

Don't lie in bed until noon.

Don't whine, and don't nag."

PASSENGER DIES IN FALL OF PLANE

(International News Service)

JERSEY SHORE, June 29.— Paul Bruch, 22, of Lock Haven was in a critical condition in the hospital here today after his plane crashed nearly 3,000 feet to the ground at the Jersey Shore flying field, near here, instantly killing Herman Bruegger, 23, also of Lock Haven, a pessenger.

The plane, which was owned by Bruch in partnership with another resident of Lock Haven, was an army biplane of an old model. Bruch had taken Bruegger up for a ride, and when the plane reached an altitude of approximately 3,000 feet, witnesses said, it appeared that Bruch, the pilot, was in difficulties. Witnesses said the plane plunged earthward, and as it came within 400 feet of the ground, Bruch made a last desperate effort to regain control. The plane spiraled and plunged into the ground, the propellor being forced into the soft earth by the force on the impact.

Bruegger was instantly killed, while Bruch was rushed to the hospital here where it was found he suffered internal injuries and a broken leg.

Discussions At Arms Parley Are Still In Progress

(International News Service)

GENEVA, June 29.—While the major questions before the tri-private naval armament limitation conference remained in status quo today the experts committee took up the question of the maximum tonnage for destroyers.

The American experts favor fixing the maximum limit for this type of fighting craft at 3,000 tons; the British propose two classes, the first with a maximum of 1,750 tons, and the second with a maximum of 1,400 tons. The Japanese delegates oppose the division of the categories, and take the middle ground regarding the maximum tonnage.

After putting their views on record the respective delegations reserved decision pending further discussion.

Chicago Surface Line Employes May Go Out On Strike

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, June 29.—The final gesture of 20,000 surface car and elevated union employes seeking a wage increase was made here today when William D. Mahon, president of the international union, resented the summation of the demands to Henry A. Blair, president of the surface lines. In the event this final conference fails a strike is foreseen.

Decision was made today by 10,000 employes of gasoline filling stations to go out on strike unless their remand of $10 addition pay per month were met by employers. Chicago thus faces one of the worst transportation tieups in its history.

Reports Phone Message From Vice Crusader

Believe Search For Missing Reform League Leader Is At End

INVESTIGATOR SAYS KING IS IN IOWA

Reports He Received Phone Message From King From Des Moines

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, June 29.—The search for William L. King, director of the Citizens' League, a reform organization, who has been missing since Monday, appeared at an end today.

E. J. Morgan, an investigator for the league, said he had received a telephone call from the missing anti-vice crusader at Des Moines, Ia.

Morgan said King told him he went to Iowa by airplane and would return to Pittsburgh in a few days.

However, this did not entirely quiet the fears of many leaders of the Citizen's League, who feared that King, a former Iowa legislator, had been kidnaped. They renewed their efforts to communicate with him personally.

Disappeared Monday.

King disappeared from Pittsburgh last Monday and yesterday a letter bearing his signature and announcing his resignation from the league because of dissatisfaction with its policies was received by all newspapers here. Directors of the league claimed the letter was a forgery.

Morgan, the investigator, said King called him on long distance telephone and explained that he made the trip to Des Moines by airplane because of important business, the nature of which he did not divulge.

King did not mention being kidnaped nor did he comment on the mysterious letter of "resignation," the league investigator said. Immediately upon learning of latest developments, Dr. C. A. Orr, president of the league, wired King in care of a Des Moines telegraph office to communicate with him at once.

Dr. Orr was reported to have admitted that he received a letter of resignation from Director King, but was unwilling to make public its contents at this time.

Another report was to the effect that the league's headquarters here had been advised that King would return to Pittsburgh soon with "an amazing story."

Rumors and denials flew thick and fast concerning King's disappearance and the reason therefor. No one at the Citizens' League headquarters would take the responsibility for explaining the embarrassing situation.

William Reiber claims the honor of picking the first home garden grown yellow wax beans in a local garden this summer. There is a considerable quantity of beans in the garden of Mr. Reiber, located at the rear of the Falls property on North Mill street and adjoining Trinity Episcopal church.

The fact that they were grown practically in the center of the city makes their earliness all the more interesting. Mr. Reiber picked the first of the beans this morning, they are of an excellent variety and very prolific and Mr. Reiber will have a crop of considerable proportions.

RAPID CITY, S. D., June 29.—From the Black Hills of South Dakota to the Green Mountains of Vermont is a long jump, but those attached to the Summer White House here are convinced that President Coolidge is going to wind up the season away from Washington at his birth place at Plymouth.

Not earlier than August 15, not later than August 25, in their belief, the President will be found at the cross roads settlement high up in the notch where he grew to manhood and where he took the oath of office as chief executive.

Pays Annual Visit

Since becoming President, Mr. Coolidge has never failed to visit Plymouth at least once in the course of a summer, and it is not thought that this year will be an exception. He no longer can look forward to a reunion with his father, who died

Commander Byrd And Companions Out Over Atlantic

Radio Messages Are Being Sent Back Of Progress Being Made

PLANE IS MAKING 100 MILES PER HOUR

Some Trouble Is Reported With Compasses Aboard Plane This Morning

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ROOSEVELT FIELD, MINEOLA, N. Y., June 29.—Averaging more than 100 miles an hour, the great silver and gold monoplane America is today winging its way toward Paris in a non-stop flight from New York. The big three-motored plane which hopped off at 5:24 a. m. was passing over Nova Scotia, some 600 miles away, at 11 o'clock.

Sends Radio Messages

Radio messages are being flashed back to the hangar here, the last one direct from the ship, received at 8:41 a. m., and signed by Commander Richard E. Byrd, reporting he was out of sight of land and encountering trouble. The message said:

"Half way between Cape Cod and Yarmouth. Out of sight of land. Weather clearing slightly. Extra cans of gasoline causing trouble with compasses. They can be thrown overboard."

Byrd's message was the first indication of trouble. Later Providence picked up a message signed by Lieut. G. O. Noville, the radio expert aboard the plane, in which he asked stations to "please stand by. I am going to pump gas".

This was interpreted by Grover Whalen, vice president of the American trans-Oceanic Company, backers of the flight, to mean that Noville was transferring the gasoline from the 27 extra cans into the main tank, so that these extra cans could be thrown overboard, thus eliminating the compass trouble.

ROOSEVELT FIELD, Mineola, N. Y., June 29.—Just at the break of dawn today, at 5:24 a. m., the giant silver and gold monoplane America roared more than a half mile down a grassy runway, lifted beautifully and took off for Paris on a non-stop flight, the third trans-Atlantic flight this year. The plane, commanded by Richard E. Byrd, also carried Bert Asoeta, Lt. George O. Noville and Lt. Bernt Balchen.

Old Sol has repented or so it seems, and he's giving us overtime, and the heavy clothes worn a week ago, today would not bring a dime. The mercury's up above 88, and climbing like something thats wild, or these are the days we've been waiting for, its June and its not very mild. But nary a word would I criticize, let it shine let the weather be warm, for its weather like this that repays us in full for those chill days of rain and of storm. On days such as these a fellow can fish, or sleep neath a cranberry tree, and I hope you're not hurt at the weather today, to be frank it exactly suits me.

Plan To Widen North Street

Curbs Will Be Moved Back And Unpaved Sections Will Be Paved

TWO ORDINANCES IN COMMITTEE

North street, between Neshannock avenue and Shenango street, is to be widened to a width of 30 feet, according to ordinances which are now in committee.

The portions of the cartway which have not been paved and lie between the existing curb line and the new curb line designated by ordinance will be paved.

The cost of paving the unpaved portions will be assessed against abutting properties according to the foot-front rule and the city's share will be paid out of a fund provided by the city.

Two ordinances have been introduced by Councilman Louis Genkinger. One was introduced May 27 and is being advertised. The other was introduced Tuesday.

NON-STOP FLIGHT ACROSS PACIFIC IS ACCOMPLISHED

ing over the Pacific, its three motors hitting on all cylinders.

Moves Accurately

The monoplane moved toward its goal with clocklike regularity as the daylight hours passed and the intrepid fliers were more than half way to the goal as dusk enveloped them.

The fliers were last sighted yesterday afternoon by the steamer Sonoma. They were 724 miles west of San Francisco. The motors of the Fokker plane were still working perfectly as it passed to the side of the steamer and winged its way toward the setting sun.

At 8:30 o'clock last night, the steamer President Cleveland reported that the plane was communicating with the steamer President Pierce by radio. Lieut. Hegenberger was requesting the Pierce for bearings. When this communication was overheard, the Cleveland was 1140 miles from San Francisco.

Although the monoplane flew into a mild rain storm in mid-ocean, the weather last night favored the fliers. The skies are still overcast off Honolulu, but the fliers had the advantage of a tail wind during the late hours of last night. Advices received from Honolulu then reported the wind blowing at the rate of 34 miles an hour at a 2,000 foot altitude.

With this wind at their back and the gasoline supply becoming lighter, the army officers were able to increase the speed of the monoplane.

At 1 o'clock this morning no further word had been heard of the plane. But it is thought that it was still careening through space, with victory perched in the cockpit along with the two brave airmen.

COMMANDER BYRD AND COMPANIONS OUT OVER ATLANTIC

due west, into a murky mist, swept to the left in a huge semi-circle and came back with its black nose pointed due east toward the Atlantic Ocean.

As the America passed back over Roosevelt field, it was followed by an escort of eight planes. They looked like great sailing condors as they swept across the murky sky. They moved evenly and steadily, their motors whirring rhythmatically, with the America in the lead. They were impressive dark objects, up these 500 feet in the sky, as they zoomed along at a fast clip.

Perfect Take-off

It was a perfect take-off. The seven-ton monoplane got away as easily as a jenny plane.

Three thousand persons, most of them women, who have stood in the rain waiting to see the takeoff, cheered as the plane shot along the runway and up into the air. The rain had stopped at takeoff time, however.

At six o'clock, first word from the American came back by radio to the hangar here. It was signed by Noville, the radio expert aboard, and said:

"Everything going fine."

Richard E. Byrd's last words before leaving were addressed to T. Harold Kinkade, motor expert, who tuned up the three whirlwind motors of the America just before the hop-off. Byrd said:

"Good work, Doc."

Bert Acosta, the swarthy, black-haired, black-eyed pilot shouted: "Sorry Doc, you can't come along."

Byrd, Acosta, Noville and Balchen left the brilliantly lighted hangar shortly after 5 o'clock after saying goodby to their loved ones and to their friends.

Byrd was attired in a naval officer's cap with gilt braid, a dark gray windbreaker which covered a khaki shirt. He was smiling and genial to the last. He was absolutely self-possessed, this man who once had the temerity to fly over the North Pole. That crowning achievement made history on May 6, 1926.

Winds Not With Them

"The weather isn't any too good," said Byrd as he left, "we won't have the winds with us that Lindbergh and Chamberlin had, but we will make the most of conditions, I hope."

Acosta was dressed in a gray suit of civilian clothes. He wore a helmet. Noville started off minus his coat. He wore a tan shirt, the tan trousers of a naval aviator's uniform and a helmet that made him look like a football player. He is a stocky, powerfully built man, with the rugged face of a pugilist.

The blonde, blue-eyed, ruddy-faced Balchen wore a plaid shirt and dark trousers. He was hatless when he entered the plane. He was all smiles. For days he had but one worry, that something might come up to prevent his going. He is to be the relief pilot and navigator, taking turns for both Acosta and Byrd.

All four had a few hours sleep yesterday, but none of them slept last night.

Mrs. Acosta Not Apprehensive.

Mrs. Acosta said she was not the least apprehensive over her husband embarking upon this great adventure.

Balchen is unmarried and there were no women folks to say goodbye to him. But one woman Mrs. J. A. Bockhurst, wife of an airplane photographer, presented him with a rosary just before he left.

Balchen said he was looking forward to seeing his old mother who lives in Oslo, Norway.

Mrs. Byrd came to the hangar just before the takeoff and went to Byrd's office in the rear of the big red building, away from the crowd. They were there together for half an hour. Byrd previously had kissed his three children goodbye in their home in Boston.

Byrd was presented with a gold wrist watch by the junior chamber of commerce.

He gave the reporters a statement in which he said he hoped "our countrymen will appreciate the fact that my shipmates, Noville, Acosta and Balchen are flying over the top solely for the progress of aviation to which they are devoting their lives."

eH said they realize there is no glory in a non-stop flight to Paris for them and he took occasion to say he was glad that Lindbergh reached Paris first, because Lindbergh "did for the progress of aviation and international good fellowship what we never could even have hoped to do."

Carry Supplies.

Byrd was asked what he thought of his chance to make Paris. "Our chances are as good as they are bad", was his cryptic reply.

At 5:12, a workman turned a crank several times just as if he were cranking an automobile, and one of the side motors began to whir.

At 5:15 there was a sputtering as the big motor in front, on the black nose of the plane, began to whir and the propellors revolved at a terrific speed.

At 5:18, the third motor, on the side, was put in operation and a roar went up from the crowd as all three motors hummed in unison. The last of the gasoline, and the food supplies had, meanwhile, been put on board. The food consisted of four roast chickens, four chicken sandwiches, four quarts of hot coffee, in thermos bottles, four ham and cheese sandwiches and five gallons of water.

The decision to hop off had come as a surprise to all the flyers, except Byrd.

The commander sent word to them shortly before 2 o'clock this morning to be prepared to hop off at dawn. The word was sent to the Garden City Hotel, where the flyers and newspapermen were stopping, and soon the hotel was in a turmoil. Reporters and photographers, upwards of fifty, dashed to the hangar.

At 9:55 a. m. a message came from the Providence wireless station that the America had wirelessed: "Please ask stations to stand by. I am going to pump gas."

The message was signed by Noville.

Grover A. Whalen, vice-president of the American Trans-Oceanic Company, explained that such a message was expected as it would be impossible for Noville to operate the radio while pumping gas from the extra cans carried to the main tanks, as it is a hand process.

Passes Newport

The America passed over Newport, R. I., according to a flight bulletin issued at the hangar here. It was signed by Grover A. Whalen, vice-president of the America Transoceanic Company, backers of the flight. Whalen is at the receiving end of the wire here. The message said:

"Radio messages received through the independent wireless from S. S. Homeric and Corinthia, state that they have picked up the automatic call of the "America" at 6:34 a. m. The approximate position of the "America" at that time was over Newport, R. I., indicating that she is traveling between ninety-five and one hundred miles an hour."

The America passed Cape Code at 7:22 a. m. according to a later wireless from the ship to the hangar. The message said:—

"Passed Cape Cod few miles. Left Cape Cod light at 7:22 N. Y. time, misty and rainy. All well."

(Signed Byrd.

On the basis of that message it was estimated that the America was flying at the rate of 108 miles an hour.

Shortly afterward a message was received through the radio corporation of America from the S. S. Naiden saying:—

"Commander Byrd passed over at 7:26. Latitude 42.14 north longitude 70:07 west.

(Signed) "Captain."

Throw Firecracker On Passing Auto

City Fireman Pursues Youths Responsible—They Will Face Mayor.

Complaint was made last night to the police by George Harper, well known city fireman, that while driving with his family on Highland avenue, near Moody avenue, that a car passed to his left and as it did so, something, which he took to be a lighted cigaret was thrown from the other car and landed on the running board of his machine.

Shortly after it landed there was an explosion, the supposed cigaret being a fire cracker. It startled Mr. Harper the driver also frightened the members of his family.

He gave chase and secured the license number, which on looking it up, showed that the machine belonging to I. R. Zahniser. There were two young men in the car at the time.

An investigation was made by the police and it was found that fire crackers had also been thrown at or into one other automobile in the same manner. A son of the owner and Donald Young were ordered to appear before the mayor this afternoon.

It is probable that a fine will be imposed, as in the eyes of the police this is a very dangerous practice and might easily be the case of a serious automobile accident.

Start Nation-Wide Search For Missing Pittsburgh Crusader Against Vice

PITTSBURGH, June 29.—Puzzled by the sudden "resignation and disappearance of William L. King, director of the Citizens' League here and former Iowa legislator, a nation wide search for the anti-vice crusader was started today.

King disappeared Monday. The following day each newspaper here received a letter purported to bear the signature of King, but which his associates say is a forgery, announcing the director's resignation from the league "because of inability to support its true purposes."

The letter stated that King severed relations with the league because it attempted to inject politics and religion into its anti-vice crusade which he has directed for six months.

A reward of $1,000 for information concerning King's present whereabouts has been offered. Although he has not been seen at his hotel since Monday he has not checked

Directors of the league fear that King's enemies of the underworld kidnaped him and sent the letter of "resignation" themselves.

King's father lives in Hubbard, Ia. out, it was learned.

Dinner was served by the ladies of the community to about 200 guests and friends of the old soldiers. The program of the afternoon was held in the Mt. Jackson high school. The chief speakers on the program were Dr. Thomas A. Blaisdell of Slippery Rock State Normal, Fred Rentz, president of the New Castle Chamber of Commerce, and Dave Needler, one of the surviving members of the battery. Music was furnished by the Bessemer band, composed of men from Mt. Jackson and Bessemer, under the direction of Loy E. Gwin.

The program was as follows:
Music—Bessemer Band.
Invocation—Rev. Robert Hamil.
Music—Bessemer band.
Address—Dr. Thomas A. Blaisdell.
Solo—Margaret Brennard.
Reading—Rev. George Neil.
Address—Fred Rentz.
Quartet—Kenneth Gwin, Loy Gwin, William McCullough and William Pitts.
Speech—Dave Needler.

Announcement was made by Prof. C. F. Ball, who had charge of the program, that soon a movement would be started for moving the Battery B monument from the foot of the hill to a place of prominence on the hill at the cemetery. Mr. Rentz, in his speech, said that he thought all the citizens honored the men who had died for them enough that it would not be a very difficult task to raise the money for such a service. He suggested that efforts be made to secure the presence of the governor of Pennsylvania for the occasion.

Dr. Blaisdell in his address emphasized the need of peace in the world, saying that in a recent trip around the world he saw so much preparation for war. The Civil War veteran, Dave Needler, seemed to think that war would always be, as it seemed ground in nature.

A lad from Epps' Crossing having ambitions to become a great banker, ran away from home and succeeded in getting a job as bank messenger.

Upon his return home two weeks later, one of his old friends asked him why he didn't keep his job in the city.

"I don't like being a banker," the lad replied. "I'm sorry I learned it."

New Plan To Save Perry's Flagship Now Rotting At Erie Pier

CLEVELAND, O., June 29.—The brig Niagara, Commodore Perry's flagship at the battle of Lake Erie, is to be saved.

Now rotting at the Municipal pier at Erie, Pa., the vessel, 114 years old, is again to be made seaworthy and her life prolonged for future generations.

Frank Wilford, attorney of Elyria, O., yesterday announced that plans were under way for the formation of the Perry-Niagara Memorial Association, the object of which will be to recondition the historic old ship.

As members of the commission, Wilford announced, there will be city officials and representative citizens of all the cities on Lake Erie, including Cleveland, Toledo, Lorain, Sandusky, Ashtabula, Conneaut, Buffalo and Erie. Interest is especially keen at Put-in-Bay, where the great Perry monument rears above the bay which served Perry's little fleet as a base before the battle, on September 10, 1813.

Wilford was in Cleveland yesterday to interview interested citizens with regard to the formation of the association. Among others, he called on Superintendent of Schools R. G. Jones, who was enthusiastic in his endorsement of the plan and who agreed to become a charter member of the organization.

"It would be a wonderful lesson in history if every child could visit the Niagara," he said. "Such a visit would vitalize the study of the War of 1812 as few things could."

"The Niagara, raised from Misery Bay at Erie and rebuilt by the state of Pennsylvania in 1913 for the Perry centennial, is now owned by the city of Erie," Wilford said. "We shall cooperate with Erie officials in every move.

"When the Niagara is restored we hope again to take her on tour to the Lake Erie cities, as in 1913, when enormous crowds flocked to the water front in every city to visit her, and personally I should like to see such a triumphant tour repeated every summer.

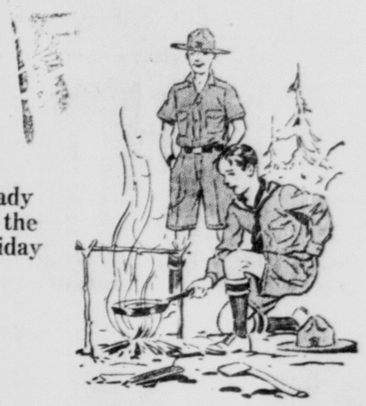

"There is no thought of taking the vessel away from Erie permanently. The brig was built at Erie, and no other city, except possibly Put-in-Bay, can assert so good a claim to her. We believe, however, that Erie will be glad to lend the old ship to the association for these patriotic tours around the lake."

As soon as the association is formed the city council of Erie will be asked to co-operate. No attempt will be made to obtain subscriptions to the fund for restoring the Niagara until an understanding has been reached with Erie, Wilford said.

"Efforts are being made to save the old Constitution, now at the Boston navy yard," Wilford said. "About $600,000 is being raised throughout the country for that purpose. If the Constitution is worth saving, then surely the Niagara is deserving of consideration, especially throughout Ohio, which, by her performance in battle she saved to the United States.

"The cost of saving the Niagara will be only a small fraction of the expense involved in the Constitution."

Patriotic societies and interested individuals were invited to communicate with Wilford at Elyria with regard to plans for the association.

COOLIDGE MAY SPEND FEW DAYS OF SUMMER VACATION AT OLD HOME

a year ago last March, but he likes to get back for a few days and review the scenes of his youth.

Mrs. Coolidge also is anxious to spend a little time in the Green Mountains, it is understood. Buried alongside old Colonel Coolidge is her younger son, Calvin, Jr., and she wants to get back to make sure that proper attention is being given to the graves.

The return to Washington this year probably will be earlier than in any of the previous summers. Both in 1925 and 1926, the Executive remained away until about the middle of September. The first of that month this year, however, is expected to find him under the newly imposed roof of the White House. The possibility of a special session of Congress in October is a factor here.

Quite a number of engagements in various sections of South Dakota are being accepted for Mr. Coolidge but none of them are later than "the first part of August." Participation in the "days of '76" celebration at Deadwood August 4 and a witnessing of Sioux Indian ceremonials at Pine Ridge immediately are expected to bring his excursions around the state to an end and he will thus be enabled to leave for the east at any time thereafter.

CO-OPERATION IS ESSENTIAL.

MODERN civilization knows of only one game which all may play and in which all players are winners. That game is co-operation. In an era where the many are working for self the exceptional who work for others may deprive self. Nobody is deprived who works with others.

The stage driver who declined to exhibit his skill with the whip on a roadside hornet's nest knew the power of co-operation. Without co-operation the huge American war loans could never have been subscribed. With co-operation they were all over-subscribed. Co-operation among the allies under Marshal Foch stemmed the advance of the German hordes.

Hornets work together. So do bees. A bee hive is a wonderful testimonial to what working together—each for all and all for each—can accomplish. Ants are also co-operators and every ant-hill testifies to the result-getting powers of co-operation. A wise man was once asked which is the most important—Labor, Capital or Management. He answered with a twinkle: "Which is the most important leg of a three-legged stool?"

Co-operation is the key word in business. It is the one direct road to prosperity, both for individuals and large groups. If a man is to be a leader, he first learns how to be a good co-operator—a worker with others; not a worker against nor for, but WITH.

UNIFORM AUTO CODE.

THE GROWING need for a national uniform vehicle code to promote safety as well as to simplify traffic control was emphasized at the Atlantic coast safety conference, held in Philadelphia last week, by Benjamin Eynon, registrar of motor vehicles in Pennsylvania.

A successful system of traffic control, he said, must combine simplicity in regulations, uniformity, preventive departments, an intelligent parking system with no parking in congested areas, greater protection of pedestrians and the use of certain streets for certain types of motor vehicles.

Some of these suggestions are incorporated in the traffic code adopted by the general assembly at the last session, which will go into effect on January 1, next. As this law is based on the Hoover code, which was prepared to aid in the standardizing of traffic rules throughout the nation, its results will be watched by other states which may be considering similar measures.

LAW AND RESPECT.

ATTORNEY GENERAL SARGENT, in speaking before the Pennsylvania Bar Association at Bedford Springs, recently, enunciated the doctrine of respect for law. This doctrine is as old as civilization. It is, in fact, the foundation of all civilization. Our early statesmen saw in it the basis not of liberty only but of the permanent development of the nation. It was stressed by Washington in his farewell address. Lincoln's advice in this direction is familiar.

But in these days it is, unfortunately, one of those fundamentals which, commonly accepted in principle, are neglected in action. It is generally know that the law—or some particular laws—is evaded with a dangerous complacency and not evaded only but ridiculed by many, as Mr. Sargent pointed out.

It must be recognized as a serious condition when the nation's chief law officer is forced to admit to the lawyers of a great state that "day by day, because someone pays for it and because the great body of law-abiding citizens is complaisant," the law is "jeered and mocked by flippant writers and cabaret performers."

The attorney general may possibly have been referring to the prohibition law. But his counsel of respect for the law may well be accepted in general sense. He and others of his profession know that disrespect for one law breeds disrespect for all.

It cost half a million dollars to capture and convict three brothers in Spokane, Wash., who held up a train and murdered four of the trainmen and they were sentenced to life imprisonment. The people of this country stand for an awful lot of abuse and then continue to pay for it for a lifetime.

People who always have dogs in their arms naturally get to smell like dogs, although they do not realize it because they get used to smelling the dogs. Automobiles that always have dogs in them, like houses, smell like dog houses. We know a lot of dog lovers will deny this but it's true just the same. Some even look like dogs, after they associate with them long enough.

The Shriners are going to build a new half million dollar hospital in Pittsburgh for crippled children. About seven hundred Shriners in New Castle will have an interest in the new hospital in Pittsburgh.

We took a drive over the Perry Highway a few days ago from Harlansburg to Meadville. It is about as pretty a piece of dirt road as one would want to go over. It is not only going to be a wonderful road between Pittsburgh and Erie, but is going to be a memorial to one of America's heroes, Commodore, Perry, the hero of the battle of Lake Erie. The building of this highway by the state at state expense also meant eight or nine miles of new highway for us at the eastern line of Lawrence county. Drive over it some time.

A long time old friend of ours while standing in front of the News office yesterday said that the only satisfactory candidates for office he had ever voted for were the ones who were not elected.

Dear Hints and Dints:—Do you cuss? Most newspaper men do. An editor friend of mine once gave this advice on the question of profanity: "Young men don't swear. Swearing never was good for a sore finger. It never cured rheumatism nor helped to buy the necessities of life. It isn't recommended for liver complaint. It won't insure against the sewing machine agent nor any of the ills which beset people through life. There is no occasion for swearing outside of a newspaper office, where it is useful in reading proofs and indispensably necessary in getting the forms to press. It has been known to help the editor in looking over the paper after it was printed. But otherwise it is a very foolish and wicked habit."

LET'S SMILE

A smile is quite a funny thing,
It wrinkles up your face,
And when it's gone you never find
Its secret hiding place.
But far more wonderful it is
To see what smiles can do;
You smile at one, he smiles at you,
And so one smile makes two.

He smiles at someone since you smiled
And then that one smiles back;
And that one smiles until, in truth,
You fail in keeping track.
Now, since a smile can do great good,
By cheering hearts of care,
Lets smile and smile and not forget,
That smiles go everywhere.

Real Flying, Aug. 1.

Monday the big Pons-Winnecke comet flew by the earth, only 3,500,000 miles away, traveling 18½ miles per second. That speed, 66,600 miles an hour, is slow compared with the speed of light, which goes 186,000 miles a second.

And light travels slowly compared with thought, which can transplant itself instantaneously to another universe in distant space 1,000,000 light years away.

The Fourth of July comes soon. Protect your children. Surgeons paint the skin thoroughly with iodine, that it may be absolutely disinfected, all germs on the surface killed before cutting into it. This makes operating safe. No germs go into the wound with the knife.

When a firecracker explodes in a child's hand, it blows disease germs into the flesh, beyond reach of iodine, and without, immediate surgical attendance, serious consequences are probable. Lockjaw is often caused by apparently trifling Fourth of July accidents.

First keep your children away from explosive firecrackers. Teach them to be patriotic without making noise.

Second, if an accident happens, get a doctor immediately.

History repeats itself in Russia. Leaders of the French Revolution were destroyed by other leaders. Robespierre cut off Danton's head. Greater extremists cut off Robespiere's head. Charlotte Corday assassinated Marat, then Napoleon took charge.

In Day's News

The retirement of Dr. Henry Churchill King from the presidency of Oberlin College leaves vacant a niche in the educational world that will be difficult to fill. For a quarter of a century Dr. King has guided the destinies of the Oberlin institution, having risen from the post of tutor in mathematics by the stages of associate professor, professor and dean. His place as an educator is rather unique in these days, in that he has always declined to become a mere administrator or money getter, but always insisting on teaching fundamental themes to Oberlin youth, and on writing books which have wide circulation among religious adherents of many names. He has combined more than many college presidents, the power of the religious leader and student of the philosophy of religion, with a skill in practical affairs that made him a desirable member of numerous religious and educational bodies of national scope.

Dr. Crane's Editorial

THE PUBLIC SCHOOL AND DEMOCRACY.

President Samuel Morehouse of Drake University, Des Moines, said the other day, "America stands for the education of the raw masses." He said that he agreed with Horace Mann that "the common school is the greatest discovery ever made by man."

President Morehouse call attention to a very important fact in schooling. The schools are intended for the common people and not for the exceptional classes. There may be need of exceptional schools for exceptional people—a few private and exclusive schools for geniuses—but they are not included in the public school system of America.

The public school is for the public. No man's child ought to be exempt. Every child without exception will be better equipped for life if he receives training and proper schooling.

Children are often refused attendance at school, or expelled, because they are below the mark in some way, morally or mentally. No child is below the mark. The public school ought to be built upon the child, not upon the system. It should study the child and adapt itself to him and train him the best way it is possible. He is not to be regarded as hopeless if he cannot possibly fit the system. God made him, and man made the system.

The sooner it is recognized that every child has the right to schooling, and the sooner provision is made in the schools for every kind of child, the better it will be for the coming generation.

The school teacher is about the most important member of the community. He is of importance, not because he sees that the boys and girls go through his curiculum and keep step, but because he is peculiarly adapted, or ought to be, to the various charges that come under his care.

What the world needs is not more knowledge, but more character, and more people who are able to think.

The child is not sent to school to tap the sources of knowledge which are somewhere in books. He is sent to school to learn how to think. All his life he must be learning. Everything that happens to him is a part of his education. He will go on unfolding his capacities until the last. How to do this coherently and wisely is the thing that schools are supposed to teach. Every man needs this kind of knowledge.

Every man does not need to know all that is in the books on integral calculus, the geographies, and the scientific books, but every man needs to know the right way to approach whatever problems may come before him.

Civilization is the raising of the level of the mass of mankind. This is the foundation of democracy. Without a general level of intelligence democracy fails. The public school, therefore, is a necessary corollary of a democratic nation.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

TEMPERANCE VS PROHIBITION.

The membership of the Church Temperance Society of the Episcopalian Church last year registered themselves as against the Prohibition Amendment on a questionaire by a vote of three to one. This Society is an unofficial adjunct of the Episcopalian Church. Its membership and officers were very strong for the passage of the Eighteenth Amendment, and for the enactment of the Volstead Law. It later repented, but it still stands for law enforcement on principle.

The House of Bishops of the Protestant Episcopal Church met at the Synod House adjoining the Cathedral of St. John the Divine of New York during the week ending June 6th, and it was expected that this action of the Church Temperance Society might be discussed. It was discussed in a very minor way, but the Reverend Doctor Thomas Empringham, the Society's national superintendent, said,

"I am a total abstainer and fanatical Dry myself. I am for Law Enforcement, even to the extent of crushing the people into obedience by the Army and Navy, because I believe that the greater the coercion employed, the sooner the demoralizing effect of this unscriptural, sin-provoking desotism will come to and end. After Prohibition has come to an end, I don't want the reformers of future ages to revive an exploded theory."

The attitude of the Society's superintendent thus expressed has become the attitude of a great many temperance people in these United States. An honest man will admit that no Amendment was ever made to the Constitution of this Nation, nor law placed upon the Statute Bcoks of the United States of America, that has caused more scandal than the Prohibitory Amendment, and succeeding law. And the Scandal grows rather than diminishes.

HARRISON L. DAVIES
(In Memoriam)

The little children loved him for the tricks which he could do
And I'm not ashamed to say it I was one who loved him, too.
There was magic in his fingers, there was magic in his smile,
There was something in his nature that stayed tender all the while.
Now upon his little table lie his rings and cards and wand
And that happy, boyish spirit has set out for realms beyond.

He loved the pranks of mystery, he loved to make us stare
With wonder as he gathered coins and cards from empty air,
With the children drawn around him he would set their eyes aglow,
And he never seemed to weary when they begged him for a show.
Now those handkerchiefs and glasses on his table will remain,
For the hand of the magician will not take them up again.

But knowing him as I did, I can fancy him today
With the angel children 'round him in that happy, laughing way,
And he's doing tricks to please them, I can almost hear them shout,
As he makes some curious movement and they think they've found it out.
Earth was brighter for his presence, and I know that Heaven must be
With this glad soul working magic for the little ones to see.

COURAGEOUS HEARTS

Most men want you to believe that they possess physical courage. Not many men have it. It is not at all an essential quality in a civilized man, although it is often desirable. There is an important place in civilization for men of physical courage, and those who, like Charles Lindbergh, have physical courage without rudeness or coarseness, are entitled to great admiration.

All the aviators I have known have been men of great daring and bravery. Each one of them really believes that flying is a very safe occupation. I have flown as a passenger with several excellent pilots, and I have been lost in admiration of their cool-headedness and apparent obliviousness of all danger, even in really risky flights. I have not much physical courage myself. In this respect I do not differ from most men. But the point of difference is in the willingness to admit it.

Linton Wells was in my office the other day, and I had the pleasure of eating lunch with him. He is the man who holds the world's record for circling the globe. Last year he went around the world in 28 days. He used many modes of transportation and flew whenever he could make arrangements for a plane.

Wells now plans to fly around the world in 15 days. He doesn't see anything wonderful or brave about such an adventure. He is quite honestly convinced that no risk whatever attaches to flying across the Pacific ocean in three jumps.

Recently Wells returned from Nicaragua, where he was doing daily aviation duty for the Nicaraguan government and a New York newspaper in a civil war. He spent 14 weeks on this job, and finished with 140 bullet holes through various parts of his airplane. He passes the incident over as just a pleasant assignment. It has never occurred to him to pose as a hero.

This adventurer has been around the world seven times. He is only 34 years old, but he knows by actual contact almost every city in the world. He is getting the maximum of enjoyment out of a colorful career. Did any of the knights of the days of the Crusades do a more complete job of living?

Wells predicts that the globe will yet be girdled in eight or nine days.

For this adventure there will be needed several very large and very fast airplanes. There should be a cabin large enough for the globe-trotter to sleep in. Pilots should be changed at every important stop, and planes may be refueled in the air.

I believe the job will be done in seven days before 1950.

That will take plenty of money, and it will be a stunt. But regular flying with passengers, across all the oceans, will be in vogue very soon now, thanks to those courageous fellows who are now blazing the trails.

Billy Long Wins Church Tourney

Fourteen-Year-Old Boy Leads Presbyterian Golfers Tuesday

BANQUET FOLLOWS GOLF COMPETITION

Strange as it may seem, one can be a golfer and still remain a member of the Presbyterian Church. Not only remain a member, but do so with dignity and eclat, all of which same was proven beyond the well known scintilla of doubt when the golfers of the First Presbyterian Church held their second annual party at the New Castle Field Club, Tuesday, June 28.

Not that all of the Golfing Presbyterians are good golfers. The gathering Tuesday represented all shades and types of golfers, running from the free swinging fast shooting type of golf as exemplified by Dick Dana, to the deliberative, conversational type of golf as demonstrated by Looey Round.

There Was A Tournament

There was a tournament of course, played under full handicap and only the player's conscience to guide his hand when he filled out his score card. And even this bore a Presbyterian flavor for the winner fulfilled the prophecy "and a little child shall lead them", Billy Long, 14 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Long winning this year's leg on the T. F. Morehead cup for low net score. The lad had a gross 95, a handicap of 35 and a net of 60.

Other prizes won were low gross, T. F. Morehead, 85 and Harry Lampe 86. High gross, Robert McK. White, 133 and Howard M. Kirk, 133. Low total for putts was divided three ways between H. E. Lampe, T. F. Morehead and D. H. Long with 31 each. Low net for the women was won by Mrs. John E. Elliott with 57 for nine holes, with Miss Edna Wilson and Mrs. D. H. Long following.

In the team play the Heathens, led by D. H. Long, defeated the Christians led by F. W. Smith, by a score of 1080 to 1112. The reason ascribed for the downfall of the Christians is a Modernist-Fundamentalist argument which started on the first tee and had some of the boys shooting their ball all over the lot.

And A Dinner

Something had to be done with the appetites worked up on the golf course and it was decided to eat, the dinner being one of these steak affairs in the club dining room. Rev. W. E. McClure, pastor of the church offered the blessing, Murrow D. Wells led a song or two and the folks did the rest.

At the close of the gastronomic foursomes, M. A. McLure, general chairman of the day introduced the toastmaster of the evening, E. A. Fenton, who knows as much about golf as he does about the Fourth Dimension. His lack of golf parlance was compensated with his humor as a toastmaster.

Just to follow the Toastmaster's Union rules, Mr. Fenton called upon a number of the guests present for short addresses. Louis B. Round spoke on "Presbyterians I Have Saw" and being a member in good standing he gave the Presbyterians all the best of it. A debate followed, the subject of which was "What Is Golf, If Any". The affirmative was upheld by two lawyers, Richard F. Dana and Robert K. Aiken and the negative by two members of the Lawrence County Bar Association, R. McK White and Homer C. Drake. The decision is being made by a group of competent judges and will be found in the 1927 edition of Sears-Roebuck catalogue. Rev. McClure followed with a short piece of exegesis touching on golf characters of the Old Testament. Mrs. S. W. Perry was the last speaker on the program, and just between us girls, about the only speaker who said anything.

That just about covers the golf party of the First Presbyterians. The committee of arrangements was headed by M. A. McLure, with E. A. Fenton, F. W. Smith, D. H. Long and Murrow D. Wells assisting. It was some party.

Grace Prepares To Start Flight From Honolulu

(International News Service)

KAUAI, T. H., June 29.—Richard Grace, Los Angeles aviator, was preparing to hop off from here to the United States in his monoplane at 7 o'clock this morning. Mechanics worked on his plane all night, checking and greasing.

As the plane was being worked on, weather forecasters reported that the weather was none too good for the flight. Grace will also be handicapped in starting by the narrowness of the flying field.

The Los Angeles airman retired at 10 o'clock last night, saying he intended to get a good night's rest. He was a guest of Lindsay Sayre at the Kauai Plantation Inn.

Grace narrowly escaped wrecking his plane when he landed here after his flight from Honolulu last night. He landed in a grove of low bushes on the Bahking sands, but managed to keep his machine in an upright position. His plane was undamaged.

"I've just had the ride of my life"

And this is the car—a Chandler—$995 f.o.b. Cleveland

I'M not a race driver, by any means, but I do like the way this Chandler moves when you shoot on the gas.

Now I know why so many friends of mine have been praising Chandler. And I can easily see why Chandler is making such widespread gains in sales, and enjoying such a successful and prosperous year.

For real performance, as well as style and comfort, I nominate Chandler. It ticks off the miles like an 18-jewel watch—and eats up distance at a pace that makes the charge of the Light Brigade seem like a slow motion movie!

My wife votes the straight Chandler ticket, too. She says it's the nicest car to drive she ever knew. She likes the marvelous ease with which it steers, and how handily she can park it in spaces she'd pass up in the average car.

And we both like the way it stays on the job. No sick spells. No whining or whimpering. And the car lubricates itself from end to end the moment you press a plunger with your foot!

Just check up all I'm saying by seeing this car, and driving it yourself. You'll understand, then, why I say my first ride in a Chandler was the ride of my life.

Make Plans For Opening Of "Y" Camp Next Week

For the past three weeks the Secretaries of the Y. M. C. A. have been busy with preparations for the annual Boys' Camp on the Slippery Rock.

Directors Kirker and Leonard have been hard at work getting the camp grounds in shape for the first set of boys to reach there Tuesday, July 5. The baseball field, tennis, volley ball and basket ball courts are being rounded into great shape and will soon be ready for the activities of the boys.

With two good ball pitchers like Kirker and Leonard in camp, the national game gives promise of being played a lot during the camping period. Many other sports have been placed on the program however and the boys will find plenty to do at all times.

One of the best features of the camp is the swimming hole. The Y officials feel confident regarding the safety of this sport at the camp, first because practically all of the boys of the Association are good swimmers and second because the swimming hole is not deep enough to be dangerous. The boys will be under the supervision of Kirker or Leonard while they are in the water and it is certain that these men will keep a close watch on their boys. With all of these safety precautions the parents can feel sure that no harm will come to their boys.

The camp month is divided up into two sections, the first two weeks will be taken by the Midgets, the older boys going there for two weeks following them. Both sections are practically filled, there being only a few places left in each group. The first group of younger boys will leave July 5, and the older boys will take charge on July 19.

Kirker and Leonard have a splendid program of activities outlined for the camp and any boy who attends will be sure to enjoy his two weeks of tent life.

RADIO BEAMS GUIDE FLIERS SETTING OUT FOR HAWAII

Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to New Castle News

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif., June 29.—Trans-oceanic fliers now may discard their sextants, compasses and other instruments by which they determine positions and directions. Radio has come to take their place.

So sure have been Lieuts. Albert Hegenberger and Lester J. Maitland and their army superiors that radio would enable them to find the Hawaiian islands, that these pilots have been depending upon two radio beams to guide them on their flight from San Francisco.

Maitland and Hegenberger are utilizing a "double English" or double protection. They catch their signals coming and going.

Station at San Francisco.

At San Francisco there is a powerful station so rigged that it projects a radio beam direct to Paia, Hawaiian islands. At Paia is a similar station. As long as the tri-motored Fokker remains in a line between the two stations, radio signals with full intensity can be heard by Hegenberger, navigator of the plane. A little off-course and—presto!—no signals.

That simple! Yet army engineers have been working diligently over two years to perfect this radio beam which these Honolulu-bound fliers believe will revolutionize long-distance flying.

The prime object of this "hop" to Honolulu, concerning which the army has been so secret, is not to reach that island city; although the two pilots consider that success more-or-less essential. Army engineers hope to prove the efficacy of "radio beam flying." Maitland and Hegenberger are the human tools.

Constantly Alert.

The radio beacons send constant currents of electricity from San Francisco to Paia and from Paia to San Francisco. These currents, flashing from triangular loops, are followed as closely as possible.

As the Fokker sails on, into its receiving set pours constant dash, dash, dash, as long as the ship pursues the correct course. Should the plane veer to right or left the signal intensity varies in such a manner as to warn the fliers to get back on the path.

By following straight along a steady stream of strong signals, the plane can fly in a direct line across the ocean, Hegenberger has said.

The two masts to furnish these signals are 90 feet tall. Two triangular loops extend 120 feet from the base of the tower. One loop is first loaded with more power than the other in order to determine directional radiation.

"While we believe the radio will guide us accurately," Hegenberger explained, as he prepared for taking off, "we intend to use all our navigational instruments so that in the event of a radio failure we can still keep to our course."

Steam Shovel Blocks Traffic

Breaks Down On Neshannock River Bridge This Morning.

Street car and motor vehicle traffic Wednesday morning was interrupted for 30 minutes when a large massive Thorson company steam shovel broke down on the Neshannock river bridge East Washington street. Traffic police worked strenuously to keep motor vehicles in operation west to east, but westbound street cars were stalled.

"I believe such things should be moved at night' said Councilman Burns after Traffic Policeman Jones had John Thorson attach a truck to the shovel and hauled it into East street though Jones wanted it hauled into Neshannock avenue. His instructions were probably misunderstood.

Burns took the position that should a fire alarm be sounded in the East Washington street business district apparatus from East street would have had difficulty in its journey south on East to East Washington street.

Arrest Youths For Milk Theft

Police Officer Arrests Two For Taking Milk From Porch

FACE PROSECUTION OF SEVERE NATURE

Theft of milk in all parts of the city, and especially in the north hill district of the city, has become so frequent, that the police have been engaged for some time past in a strenuous effort to locate and capture the persons responsible.

First arrests for this offense were made last night by Officer Robert Dukes who caught Thomas Kelley and John Fairweather, nineteen year old young men of the South Side district, about four o'clock this morning on Rebecca Way and just after they are alleged to have stolen a quart of milk from 214 East Falls street. They are being held pending the investigation of the police.

As a result of the statement of H. M. Goldberg of the Rieck-McJunkin Dairy Company, as well as representatives of other milk companies in the city, that they would go the limit in backing the city in the prosecution of such cases, the young men, who have confessed to the theft of this milk, will probably face prosecution on the most severe charge that can be made against them.

The various concerns state that they have not only been compelled to replenish milk supplies stolen in the past few weeks, but have also been compelled to sustain the loss of the free delivery of a second lot of milk to their patrons and of bottles broken and will be glad to seek the punishment of the persons responsible.

When first apprehended the young men denied tht they had taken the milk, but as there was the proof of the driver for the Rieck-McJunkin Dairy Company, who saw them lift the milk, they finally admitted the theft.

The young men accused insist on the fact that it was about eleven o'clock last night, when they started from their homes in the South Side and started to walk about the city. They spent part of the time in the West Side Park. Then they came to Falls street and stole the milk.

Since the milk retailers are willing to back up the police department in putting a stop to this pernicious habit, each case will be prosecuted.

Unfortunately the thefts are depriving quite a number of babies of their food supply.

Boys Wounded In Clash By Miners

Lads Are Injured Following Ball Game When Missiles Are Thrown.

(International News Service)

CHARLEROI, Pa., June 29.—State police and county detectives today began an investigation of the wounding of two boys last night following a ball game at Crescent, Pa., when union sympathizers at Granville hurled pieces of watermelon into a truck carrying the Pricedale (non-union mine) ball team. Gun play followed.

The wounded boys were Pete Tehans, 20, shot in right leg, and Sam Mausi, 16, shot in left arm. Both live in Granville. Both boys suffering from loss of blood were to be removed to the local hospital today. They were not taking part in the demonstration.

Seventeen Pricedale men and youths riding in the truck were to be arraigned before Justice J. T. Cowen here this afternoon, charged with shooting with intent to kill. Two coal and iron police are among the group.

Search of the truck disclosed three exploded shells, state police said, but no weapons were found on any of the men.

Moore Has Unique Camp Along Shenango River; Reminds Of Circus Life

All the glamour of the circus, reinforced by picturesque scenery is to be found at Camp Firestone near Nassau and persons with a fondness for appearances that smack of the "Big Top" life would appreciate the place where circus banners announce that it is "Moore's circus."

The most casual observer could not help but have his attention attracted as he motored down the lonely, rural lane as the banners, painted in screaming red, small gaily-painted wagons, situated near vari-colored ticket booths can be readily seen from the road.

As one travels through the by-way into the "circus grounds" he approaches a thick wood, where a house, made out of silica rock or firestone has been built and inside it has all the comforts and conveniences of the city home. The house and grounds are owned by W. S. Moore of North Beaver street.

The place is really known as "Firestone camp" on account of the house being built near the quarries from which Mr. Moore obtains the rock. A small stream runs close by and persons who have never visited the Iron spring are further initiated into circusdom.

Inside the home, which has an annex for the storing of automobiles, are stoves, tables, bedrooms. There is running water electric lights and a radio at night peals out beautiful music to the persons who live in the vicinity. The Moore family occupy the house during the summer time.

In another section of Camp Firestone is a large, new barn, where a trick mule is kept. The mule is almost unrideable—in fact, it is— excepting for one person, Cowden, a son of W. S. Moore who has practiced long with the balky animal.

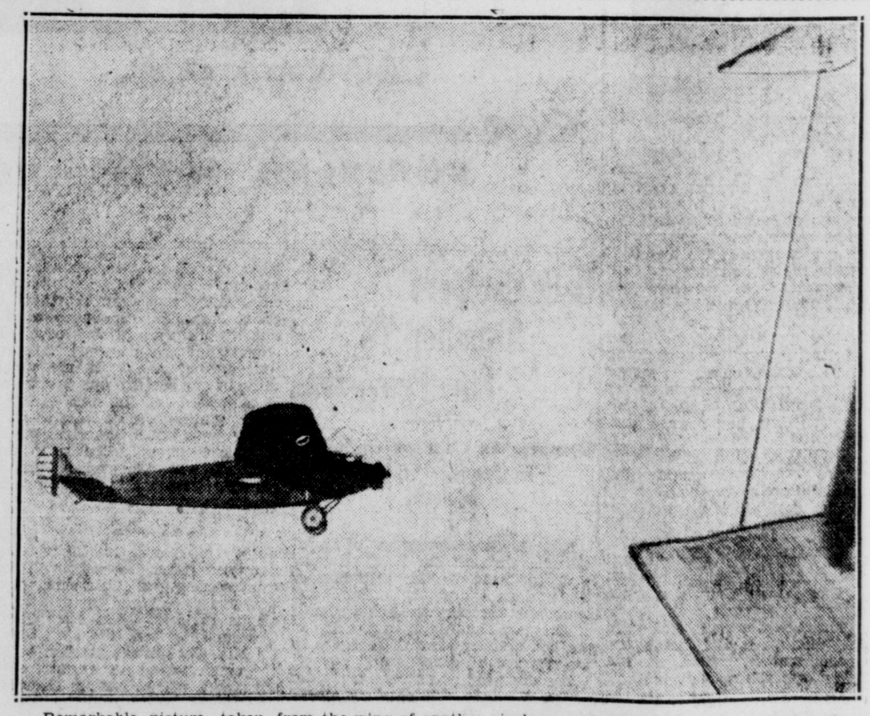

As the grounds are private a heavy chain is stretched across the by-way and a trained Police dog is attached to a wire and is the guardian of the place and apparently knows his duty to a "T" as all watch-dogs should.

In another section is an out-door dining-hall, built from large limbs of trees. There is a stove, built from rock nearby and from every nook and corner of the several acres the semblance of a small circus having just "arrived in town" is indicated.

According to Mr. Moore the Firestone house was bulit by he and his son and took several years to get it to the point it has now reached. He intends, he said to increase its size within the near future.

However, the Camp Firestone is probably the most picturesque in this section of the country and being a member of the Circus Fans association, Mr. Moore had it arranged in such a way that it would be unusual in appearance as a summer camp.

Paris Plans For Reception To Byrd's Fliers

(International News Service)

PARIS, June 29.—The same elaborate preparations that were taken to guide Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh to Paris on his epochal flight were under way here today to ensure the safety of Commander Richard E. Byrd and his three companions, once their giant monoplane arrives over French soil.

The great aerial beacon on the Mount Valerion aerial lighthouse near Le Bourget, will be lighted to give Byrd's navigator his position. The same array of flares and flashes that were used for Lindbergh will be employed to guide Commander Byrd.

A number of fast planes will be held in readiness to escort the America to the flying field here.

According to present plans, Commander Byrd and his companions will be welcomed at Le Bourget flying field by Charge D'Affaires Whitehouse, who is acting in Ambassador Herrick's absence in the United States; also by American naval attache Capt. White and by representatives of the National Aeronautic Society and the Aero Club of France.

Place Damage Done To Apartment At Million Dollars

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, June 29.—A revised estimate of $1,000,000 was placed by police today on the damage done to the contents of the luxurious apartment of C. Bai Lihme, retired capitalist, allegedly by two disgruntled employes of the exclusive building.

John Healy, doorman of the building, and George Tiernam, elevator operator, faced arraignment today on charges of malicious mischief following their alleged confession that they wrecked the furniture and destroyed valuable paintings in the apartment because Lihme refused them a raise in wages.

During Lihme's absence from the city, the men entered the apartment and made art objects the targets of liquor and beer bottles and destroyed practically all the furniture, according to the police.

Public Eating Places Are Now Being Inspected

County Medical Director Says Health Laws To Be Rigidly Enforced.

Warning is issued by Dr. H. C. Harper, County Medical Director that all employes and proprietors of public eating places should secure certificates of health and observe the other regulations of the Pennsylvania Health Department.

Dr. Harper says that inspection is being made of all public eating places of the county, including roadside stands and temporary eating places in summer touring camps, etc. He reports that most of the managements have complied with the requirements of the law but that a considerable number have been careless or indifferent in regard to these regulations and steps are being taken to enforce all the requirements of the law.

Dr. Harper said that he will be glad to assist anyone who wish any help or information concerning the proper blanks and the carrying out of the regulation. All are urged to meet these requirements at once and thus avoid any inconvenience to themselves or their business.

Two of the least thankful persons in the world for their recent buggy ride are perhaps Ruth Snyder and Henry Judd Gray.

PETERS ADVENTURES IN ANIMAL LAND

By Florence Smith Vincent

What Came of Curiosity

"Woof! Woof! Woof! Good thing I took the path by the brook! Something tells me that I am not going to dine on chicken tonight, and here luck has sent a hearty dinner my way. To be sure Porcupine is not the easiest prey to catch, but for all his bristles I know how to deal with him. I heard him talking before I came over the crest of the hill, but he couldn't have been talking to himself! To whom was he speaking? That is what I want to know!"

It was the voice of Cutie Fox. Peter recognized it in a second, and sure enough now from out the shadows behind the tree stole his old friend and with ears erect and nose pointed to the sky stood there sniffing the breeze.

"That's strange!" continued Cutie Fox, muttering to himself. "I smell Porcupine and something else, too—a sort of Two Leggy smell. "Sniff! Sniff!' But it can't be that—my nose must be deceiving me! Why should a Two-Legs be rambling in the meadow at this time of night? No dog near, though! I am sure of that, so even if there is a Two-Legs in the neighborhood I should worry!"

Peter chuckled when Fox said that, and Cutie head him, whirling about to face the rock.

"Woof! What was that?" cried he and listened for a moment, but the Boy held his breath and Fox slowly turned away.

"Must have been mistaken," muttered he. "Maybe a mouse spied me and squeeked to warn his mate. I've no time for mice now, however, I have bigger business on hand. Hello! Porcupine didn't see any one following him, curious old thing that he is, he has curled himself up and is waiting to see what happens. Puts too much faith in those bristles of his, Porky does! They might scare some folks off, but they don't bother me a bit. I have wasted so much time talking to myself that Pork could have gotten away easily, but he hasn't, and now he will have to pay for his foolishness."

Off ran Cutie Fox and in a few bounds was at Porcupine's side. Peter crept around the rock where he could more plainly see what was going on, and he heard Cutie say:

"I have heard that curiosity once killed a cat, but this is the time it is going to be the cause of the sad fate of a Porcupine. Sorry, Porky, but you didn't use good sense and so must expect to suffer."

Peter was going to yell and warn his old friend Fox, but something made him hold his tongue. Perhaps he, too, was curious—curious to see what use Pork would make of his quills. The chap had boasted that they protected him so well. He rather hated to see Fox suffer as he would if he went to poking Porcupine and got some of those barbed quills in his nose. But Fox had lived in these parts long enough to know what he was doing. Besides, he was a thief. Serves him right to get pricked! Peter decided to let Fox go his own way. Then he saw Cutie slowly put out one paw and gently push Porcupine. The fellow moved. Fox tried it again—then again, and then again. Peter could scarcely believe his own eyes. Fox was rolling that ball of bristles before him. Where? Straight toward the brook

ONLY by driving a Chrysler—"50", "60", "70" or Imperial "80"—can you discover the fundamental reason for the sweeping public preference which has elevated Chrysler over the heads of twenty-three long-established cars—actually into fourth place in dollar volume of car sales.

In numbers that shatter all precedents for the industry, enthusiastic buyers have learned only by actual experience that any Chrysler delivers a dash and vigor of performance without compare in its particular price division.

And to these hundreds of thousands of motorists it is becoming increasingly evident that the Chrysler plan of Standardized Quality assures very definite superiorities in beauty, comfort, dependability, economy, safety, long life as well as sustained brilliance and marked smoothness of performance—all of which qualities are being widely emulated, though nowhere duplicated.

You owe it to yourself to become acquainted with these Chrysler advantages. And the only way to know them is to experience them by a real driving test.

Come in. Let us give you a thorough demonstration of the unapproachable advantages which maintain the four great Chryslers—"50", "60", "70" and Imperial "80"—unique and singular in their four great markets—you to select the route and do the driving, if you wish.

Calls Campers Attention To Law Provisions

Dumping Of Garbage Or Refuse In Streams Is Prohibited.

State Health Department of Pennsylvania through Dr. H. C. Harper, wish to bring to the attention of the residences of the county and temporary campers the requirements of the law that apply especially in the hot summer months in regard to the disposal of garbage and sewage.

The dumping of garbage or refuse matter of any kind in creeks is strictly prohibited by law and special care should be taken by all living along creeks to guard the health of those that live farther down the stream.

Toilets should not be located on low ground where a rise of streams will flood the location. Also they should be protected from flies and all garbage should be dumped into a pit which is kept covered so that flies and other insects cannot carry disease germs to other territory.

Commander Byrd And His Associates Are Experienced Airmen

Quartet Attempting Trans-Ocean Flight To Europe Are But Youngsters

Byrd Expedition To Europe By Plane Is For Scientific Advancement

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, June 29.—The four flyers who hopped off from Roosevelt field today on the third great trans-Atlantic flight in less than two months are all experienced airmen, and all comparatively young—under forty.

Commander Richard Byrd, the leader of the expedition, is the best known of the four, and the most experienced. Byrd, who is married and has three children, achieved his greates fame when he conquered the North Pole by air on May 6, 1926. For this feat he was awarded the congressional medal of honor.

Byrd has had a long career in aviation, and has won fame as a developer of air navigation instruments which are now in use all over the world. He invented the "bubble sextant" which enabled flyers to obtain an artificial horizon and to calculate their position while in flight. He also invented the sun compass and a drift indicator.

Byrd is Intrepid Flier.

Byrd was born in Winchester, Va., Oct. 25, 1888, his brother Harry Byrd is now governor of Virginia, high navy officials have cited him for fine conduct, courtesy, devotion to duty, judgment, physical endurance, self-control and discipline. He has received seventeen citations for service performed over and above the call of duty. Four of these were for bravery, two of which were for extraordinary heroism in saving lives.

Bert Acosta, the pilot, is tall, well proportioned, with a mop of coal black hair, swarthy skin, black eyes and black mustache. He is the latin type although extremely calm and matter of fact in going about the business of flying. He was born January 1, 1895, in San Diego, Cal., is married and the father of two small sons. He is of Spanish descent.

Holds Several Records

He holds several important air records. He is the co-holder with Clarence Chamberlin of the world endurance flight record of 51 hours, 11 minutes and 20 seconds made in April of this year. Acosta holds an endurance and distance record from Omaha, Neb., a distance of 1220 miles, which he covered in 11 hours and 20 minutes. He was also holder of the American altitude record of 22,500 feet which he made at Dayton, O., without oxygen.

Acosta was a daring automobile racer before he began flying in 1910. In 1913 he went to Canada and became chief instructor in the Canadian air force he remained in this position until 1917 when he became director of flying and testing for the U. S. army. He was commissioned a captain the following year. In 1922 he resigned and was commissioned Lieutenant in the navy, retaining such rank until 1926.

Lt. George Noville, the assistant pilot and flight engineer, was born in Cleveland, April 24, 1890. During the war he was in naval aviation on the Italian front and received the Croce De Guerra from the Italian government. In 1920 he became superintendent of the United States air mail. Later he was appointed the government's representative at aircraft factories where planes for the service were under construction. He is married and makes his home in San Francisco.

Balchen is Youngest

Balchen is the youngest of the four flyers, being 27 and unmarried. He is blonde, rosy-cheeked blue-eyed Norweigian who recently took out his American naturalization papers. His home was in Oslo, Norway. For many years he flew in the frozen north and has been on many dangerous air missions.

Balchen and Byrd met last year at Spitzbergen when Balchen had been sent by the Norweigian government to assist Amundsen in preparing for his flight over the North Pole. Balchen also gave valuable aid to Commander Byrd in his North Pole flight, helping prepare the skis for the "Josephine Ford." Recently he has been test pilot for the Atlantic Aircraft company at Hasbrouck Heights, N. J. where he flew the America in its early tests.

The purpose of the flight is scientific, to determine standard flying conditions between the United States and Europe.

W. C. Emery of R. D. No. 3, was ordered into police court Tuesday by Officer Faella on a charge of parking too near a street intersection. He paid a fine of $3.

Rumors On French Fliers Are False

(International News Service)

QUEBEC, June 29.—Another of the long string of rumors that Captains Charles Nungesser and Francois Coli, missing French aviators, had been located in the wilds of northern Canada was branded as false late Tuesday afternoon by officials.

The rumor, which stated that the flyers had been found at Ghost Lake, some 400 miles north of Quebec, by government geologists, was given no official credence, it being pointed out that if the aviators had been located by government employes, an immediate report would have been made to headquarters, either here or in Ottawa.

No such report has been received, and all confirmation is lacking.

Firemen On Job For Entire Night Putting Out Fire In Swamp

City dump near Florence avenue, sometimes better known as Wolfe Swamp, was on fire Tuesday for the first time this summer.

It is believed that the fire was caused by boys, who wanted to start something and see the firemen in action.

They were successful, for a still alarm, was turned into the fire department, when immense volumes of smoke began to arise from the dump in the early afternoon.

One of the city departments was sent to the scene and 800 feet of hose was laid from a hydrant on Bartram avenue. The department was then returned to its house and two men were placed on the job of flooding the swamp where the fire was in progress, by Councilman D. O. Davies.

These men were in the job until eight o'clock this morning, when the fire had apparently been drowned out. The hose was then returned to the service of the fire department.

Just Five Mile Hike In Making Round Of Course At Field Club

Some of the cynical brethren in our midst are wont to pop off now and then with some scurrilous statement concerning the ancient and honorable game of golf as a means of exercise. They have insinuated that golf was not a game, but a disease, which, once contracted, was incurable forever after.

In fairness to the golfers and all those shooting over 100, someone should rush in to the defense, and having nothing else to do this balmy June morning, the author of this article girds on the shield and buckler for the disciples of St. Andrew.

First of all, golf is an exercise, a very good one. In proof of this statement, take any 18-hole golf course in the country as an example, the New Castle Field Club being the nearest one.

The local course is 6,475 yards long, according to the score cards, but actually is about 6,600 yards long, the recent addition to the number 15 hole making the difference. Not one golfer in 729 plays every ball straight and as a result there is a lot of criss-crossing back and forth over the fairways, tramping around in the rough and hunting lost balls in gullies. The average would be about 50 extra yards to each hole, a total of 900 more yards, a total in all of 7,500 yards. or slightly less than five miles.

Now, a five-mile walk on a highway is quite a little exercise, but do it over the New Castle Field Club course and it's rather strenuous. Up hills and down the sides of valleys, tramping through high grass and stony beds of runs, and after doing 18 holes on a hot day one feels like a bath and a meal.

The average 18-hole course means about five miles of walking, plus a mile or two of swinging clubs, and then there is the exercise for the vocabulary when one tops a brassie shot.

HAWAIIAN FLIERS AND THEIR FAMILIES

HURRAH! IT'S REALLY SUMMER ONCE MORE

Boys and girls the country over are making their daily trek to the swimming hole and bathing beach once more. And really it's great to get back into the water again, as the smiles on the faces of the youngsters above will tell you. They are seen at the Oak street beach, the bathing resort of Chicago's Gold Coast, and are, left to right, Fern Simmons and Lizzie Glutz, and on their way to the water, John and Henry Thelin and Harry Laatsch.

Speelman Continues As Treasury Official, May Not Resign Post

Coolidge Appoints Kansas Man To Register Of Treasury Berth.

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, June 29.—Harley V. Speelman was still occupying the office of register of the treasury today, despite the announcement by President Coolidge in South Dakota yesterday that he had appointed Walter O. Wood of Kansas to the post.

"I've discussed my resignation with Secretary Mellon, but I haven't submitted it yet, and I don't know that I will", said Speelman.

Treasury officials were taken completely by surprise by the President's action in appointing Wood to the post. They said, however, that the place would be vacant by August 1 for Wood to take over.

Speelman was appointed register of the treasury in 1922. He was appointed by President Harding, and prior to the appointment had been prominent in Republican politics at his home, Marietta, O.

No reason was assigned, either in South Dakota or in Washington, for the change.

The office cynic says the South is solid because nobody in Dixie has enough money to buy an office.

Officer Samuels 'Reduces' To Be Fit For Ball Game

Officer Clarence Samuels, mainstay of the police team behind the bat, has taken precautions, he states, that will insure his part in the benefit contest Friday afternoon between the police and Leslie Hotel teams.

One of the matters of pride to him has been his long hair. Some of it was eight inches in length. But it would fall down over his eyes at the important stage of the game and cause a misplay that had its effect on the result.

In order that there will be no possible alibi or excuse for him not performing in a stellar manner on Friday afternoon, he has had his hair cut off and his head shaved. The job is said to have been done by Lieutenant Harper and Officer Moore, as a means of insuring the playing ability of Samuels.

A woman arrested as a careless driver said she believed in the equality of sexes. She got 60 days. She'll have to think up a better answer than that.

Baker's Condition Remains Unchanged

Doctors Assert That Harry Baker Has Better Chance Following Transfusion.

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Pa., June 29.—The condition of Harry Baker, secretary of the State Senate and State Republican Committee, today was reported unchanged at the Polyclinic hospital, where Baker underwent a blood transfusion operation late yesterday.

Physicians said it was as yet too early to note any improvement in the politician's condition by virtue of the transfusion. A friend of Baker's who refused to allow his name to be made known, submitted to the transfusion, offering his blood in an effort of physicians to cleanse Baker's system of poisons caused by diseased tonsils, which were removed recently.

Since the operation for removal of his tonsils Baker has been recovering in Polyclinic hospital, but physicians felt his recovery would be speeded by the transfusion.

Glimpses Of Nature

By OWEN PENFIELD FOX

Summer-time brings to us the gay winged tourist, and it is a pleasure to go afield, and woods, and listen to the feathered creatures bubbling with melodious music.

I seem to fancy the Warbler for there is a mysterious beauty in their eternal song. To some locations comes the Pine Warbler ever chanting, and there is the Myrtle Warbler a splash with golden spots, and as he flits about on slender twig you get a glimpse of gold above his tail.

Then I get a peep at the Black and Green Warbler as he appears in the summer sunshine, sending forth his song. And as you see the Prairie Warbler all adress his vest striped with yellow, and his green back marked with dark red spots.

The Golden Winged Warbler is a bird seldom seen and if by chance you do, you will know it by the gray, and satin body showing up the Cap of gold, and on each wing appear two golden bars, and as it sits on swaying bough, with head uplifted and throatt puffed out. His song is at its best when Day is ending and the Sunset is casting long shadows—Shadows like the happiness of Life, flitting away.

Auto Tourists Headed For Black Hills Of Dakota

Many automobile tourists from the Eastern part of the United States are following the trail into the Black Hills of South Dakota which was blazed recently by President Calvin Coolidge on his way to the summer White House, located in this great expanse, according to reports from the American Automobile Association.

The A. A. A. has prepared road maps and objectives where the tourists can go, also giving the routes to be taken in order to get to the Black Hills.

President Coolidge is located at the State Game Lodge, one of the most scenic places in the Black Hills. Each day he must drive 32 miles to the summer headquarters of the nation, Rapid City, to transact the nation's business. He will find time nevertheless to enjoy the beauties of the country and to fish in the abundant trout streams.

Tourists from the East can take the route leading through Chicago, St. Louis, Memphis or Little Rock. However, a great volume of traffic will go through Chicago, by the way of Waterloo, Sioux City, Sioux Falls and Chamberlain, through the great cattle country.

Many tourists from the East will enjoy the pleasures afforded by the Black Hills this summer, tramping in khakis, camping in the wilds, shooting, fishing and swimming to their hearts' content.

Du Bois Rotarian Proves Best Loved At Recent Convention In Belgium

By ALICE LANGELIER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

OSTEND, Belgium, June 29.—The best loved man in the Rotary International is Spencer Free, of Du Bois, Penna.

Everybody in the big organization agrees on this point, but if further proof were needed, the reception he received at the recent convention held in Ostend would certainly be sufficient.

For more than twenty-five years this "young old man" has been sending a cheery birthday and Christmas card to every friend in need and even to many who are not, trying to put a bright spot into everybody's life. His birthday list is so long that he must send ten cards a day to ten different people. His greetings go to over five thousand people in all walks of life and of all ages.

"When I first began my hobby," says Free, "I intended it only for children, but someone suggested that I include grownups, too, so now everybody gets one, whether he is six, sixteen or sixty."

Surgery is Free's profession. Poetry, music and poker make up his pastimes. He began life as a poor journalist, writing for five dollars a column.

His well known poem "The Human Touch," inspired the Rotary clubs in Ireland to open up homes for the soldiers where they could get bed and food at cost. And now hundreds of cards go to the land of Erin on every St. Patrick's Day.

The "Sunshine Poet" was the only happy one of the many Rotarians who happened to fall upon a room in an old fashioned hotel here without running hot water.

"Why, I considered myself only too lucky," he said with a chuckle, "to have a beautiful petite demoiselle come to my room with a big pitcher of hot water and prepare my bath for me. Some days there was only enough for a tooth wash, but that didn't bother me. I can get plenty of it when I get home."

Minds Own Business, Lives To Age Of 102

NEW YORK, June 29.—Mrs. Marie Carlson has lived to be 102 because "she minds her own business".

Keeping her nose out of other people's affairs is Mrs. Carlson's only recipe for longevity.

The "little old lady", as she is known in her Brooklyn neighborhood, lives alone, keeping her two rooms neat as a new pin.

And for relaxation, she reads the Bible instead of gossiping.

A DIFFERENCE

Green—They used to say that a woman's face was her fortune.

Brown—But that's all been changed since the short skirt came into style, old chap!

Whom the gods would make an ass they first make a partisan.

France To Honor Ninth Centenary Of The Conqueror

"Cour d'Amour," with Parisian actors and actresses, will be presented from 4 to 6, followed by a night fete with the town and castle brilliantly illuminated.

Festivities will be continued here on Monday, then transferred to Deauville on Tuesday and to Havre on Wednesday.

Hotels of Falaise and Caen, famous neighboring town, are preparing to handle record crowds. The overflow will be accommodated in Deauville and Trouville.

Thiel College Science Hall To Be Rebuilt Soon

GREENVILLE, Pa., June 29.—Bids on the rebuilding of the science hall of Thiel College here will be asked in the near future, it was announced today at the college office.

The building, damaged to the extent of $30,000 by fire during the spring term, will be rebuilt as soon as possible. The greater damage to the structure was on the second and third floors. The blaze is presumed to have originated from crossed wires.

It is the intent of the college authorities to have the building finished ready for use by the opening of the fall term on September 23. Not only was the building seriously damaged, but a great quantity of apparatus in the laboratories was destroyed. Re-equipping of the laboratory rooms of the college is now taking place.

Work on this building will be the chief item of repair for this summer at the school, although a program of repair work including many minor items is listed. It is said today that a very satisfactory adjustment with the fire insurance companies has been made.

State Passes Hundred Million Mark In Tree Planting, This Year

HARRISBURG, Pa., June 29.—Pennsylvania has passed the 100,000,000 mark in forest tree planting, the Department of Forests and Waters announced today. The figure includes more than fourteen million which were distributed during the spring planting season of the present year.

The trees set out this spring by the 4000 people to whom they were distributed exceeded by almost four millions the total number planted during any year since the department began distribution to individuals and organizations. More than half a million seedlings were planted on state owned land.

Since the establishment of state forests in 1899 more than thirty six million trees have been planted on them. Distribution to private land owners began in 1910 and since that time more than sixty-four million seedlings have been distributed.

The planting during the present season is the first time that the expected maturity will equal the present annual consumption. Experts in the department estimate that the trees should produce about 500,000,000 board feet of lumber an amount equal to the present yearly consumption in the state.

Trees planted in Pennsylvania this year, the department said, would reach around the world if planted in a row ten feet apart, and would be more than sufficient to make a tree lined highway encircling the globe.

Cambria county stands first among the 67 counties of the state with a total of 980,015 trees planted this spring. Elk county second with 771,100, with Berks third with 754,195. Berks county leads in the number of persons who set out trees, with 156 tree planters. Luzerne is second and Indiana third.

More than half the trees distributed for private planting went to farmers and other individuals. Mining companies planted 2,072,700 trees, water companies and power companies, 1,452,825, and other industrial companies 1,072,060.

Indian Village Feature At Boy Scout Camp

This is the Night of the big "Camp Minstrel Show" at the Boy Scout camp. The program is full of laughs and the scouts full of anticipation. They're ready to go. "Indian Village is being occupied, for the first time, today.

Here are the camp Indians, Bill Wheeler, Ed Jenkins, Harold Aggas, Joe Pearson, John Hancher, Harold Charbonnier, Dave Ritchie and Ferris Hartley. These are first and original Indians of the John M. Phillips camp, Indian Village. They enter the village today, and will continue occupancy until the end of the period Saturday.

After today no one in the camp, including the officers will be allowed within the village. The scouts who have merited the honor of living the woods life in this village will be entirely unmolested by other people. A fence has been erected about the village and anyone wishing to witness the activities of the scouts within will be permitted to observe from the outside the enclosure.

All sorts of original work was performed by the scouts who are being permitted to enter the village. They are the ones who constructed the fence about the village and placed the unique gate at the entrance. This gate will contain the sign of the Indian Village. Several bridges have been built by the scouts over the small brooks which pass close to the village.

Chief's Totem And New Lodge

Tuesday evening Owen Penfield Fox, who designed and constructed the village, visited the camp and erected the "Big Beaver Totem," which is a pole containing the sign of the chief of the lodge.

A new tepee, which has not been given a name was erected in the village, and another tepee which will bear the name, "Yohema Lodge," meaning spirit of the forest will probably be pitched tonight.

"Tee-Tonk-Ah," means big lodge. This is the name of the main lodge of the village. In this lodge will reside assistant executive, C. R. Knallay who has been placed in charge of the village.

Truly an Indian Village

Everything that goes into the Indian village is an exact duplicate of some characteristic of a real Indian village, so fanciers of Indian life and custom may find the objects of their study right in the John M. Phillips camp.

Coolidge Well-Wishers Vexed By Stories Sent From "Camp"

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to New Castle News

WASHINGTON, June 29.—"Lay off o' that patronizing attitude quick," is the warning which Coolidge well-wishers who know the corn and wheat belt have rushed to the presidential lodge in the Black Hills wilderness, after reading the last few day's newspapers.

Nobody in Washington has any doubt that the Coolidges are plenty 'cute enough to realize that they're not in any really out-of-the-way part of the country.

It's quite understood that a lot of frontier stuff has been faked for their entertainment. It's recognized that it's perfectly proper for them to play up to it, but the impression the attendant correspondents are giving is that they actually are fooled by it.

* * *

Secretary Edward T. Clark, of the official party is represented as having "unbent" to the extent of dancing with some of the simple South Dakota dairy maids; Mrs. Coolidge as pouring tea for cowboys in chaps, spurs, cartridge belts and bandana handkerchief necktie; the president as having waived all ceremony to sit on the parch and chin with a rough old well-digger who infests that section—Senator Pete Norbeck.

This is all very well to put in down east newspapers, whose readers think buffalo run wild everywhere the other side of Pittsburgh.

But in the western press!—why, out there it's liable to be seen by folk who know the little dairy maids as sub-debs just back from Vassar and Wellesley, and the cattle punchers as Yale and Harvard alumni, and Pete Norbeck—

Well, Pete won't care. Nevertheless, anybody who ever saw him in his st bib and tucker at a diplomatic nction, he's a funny chap to think as a horny-handed well-digger.

* * *

Many's the long year since spike-s per capita, or ladies' sassy im-ted frocks, have been any fewer the Black Hills and thereabouts n in any other neck of the woods. erybody who's been west of the Mouri in the last two decades kn s the guy who gets himself up in cowboy regalia—the Black Hills a a cattle country anyway—or the girl who rigs herself out in a sun onnet and a calico wrap, un-doubtedly got 'em at a costumers; kno likewise that Hot Springs, in the uthern "hills," was a swell summer sort a quarter of a century ago.

So the idea that the Coolidge crow is doing any "unbending" to associate with these folks not only soun airy; it sounds idiotic, too.

The wise ones wish the correspondents would cut it out.

It ay make snappy reading along the antic seaboard, but it's calculated to cause stomach aches among oters on the other side of the divide.

If you want some genuine Cinderella dope:

Did you notice that Mrs. Harry Wardman of Washington was presented at court" the other night—at Buckingham Palace—to England's king and queen?

Well, she was.

Not so very long ago it took blue blood as well as simoleons to crash Buckingham Palace gates. A billionaire's wife couldn't have done it if ever her hubby'd been so much as soiled by trade."

And who's Harry Wardman?

Oh, he's Washington's real estate czar—a multimillionaire all right.

But what was he in his native England, back in the 90's before he emigrated, to seek his fortune in the new world?

He was a bricklayer. That's what.

WOMEN APPROACHING MIDDLE AGE

Pass Through This Trying Period in Good Condition by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

MRS. HARVEY TUCKER
R. R. 9, SHELBYVILLE, IND.

"Grow old along with me, The best is yet to be"

With her children grown up, the middle-aged woman finds time to do the things she never had time to do before—read the new books, see the new plays, enjoy her grandchildren, take an active part in church and civic affairs. Far from being pushed aside by the younger set, she finds a full, rich life of her own. That is, if her health is good.

Thousands of women of middle age, say they owe their vigor and health to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Those who have learned through their own experience the merit of this dependable medicine are enthusiastic in recommending it to their friends and neighbors.

"I had been in bad condition for three months. I could not do my work. One day I read what your medicine had done and just had a feeling that it would help me, so I sent and got a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I had only taken half a bottle when I got up and started to do my work. It gave me an appetite, and helped me wonderfully. I can not praise this medicine highly enough. I surely will advise all women and girls to take it, and they don't have to use rouge to look healthy. My two daughters are taking it now and one is also using the Sanative Wash. I am willing to have you use this testimonial and I will answer letters from women asking about the medicine."—Mrs. Harvey Tucker, R. R. No. 9, Shelbyville, Indiana.

"I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the little books you give away and began to take the medicine. After the first few bottles I began to feel better and could eat better and had fewer headaches. I feel like a different person. At anytime that I don't feel good I take the Vegetable Compound again, as I always keep a bottle on hand. You may use this letter for every word is true. I will answer any letters sent to me."—Mrs. Jennie Bollerman, 611-11th St., Union City, N. J.

Bellanca Building 5 Big Planes For U. S. Air Service

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, June 29.—Giuseppe Bellanca, who spent many discouraging years of his life in designing airplanes, has now achieved success, through the success of his plane in the Chamberlin New York to Germany flight.

Bellanca's services are now being widely sought. He has entered into a contract to build five tri-motored, twelve passenger planes by the end of the summer. These planes will be put into service immediately as the nucleus of a Trans-Continental passenger air service.

The service will probably be first inaugurated between New York and Miami.

A. R. Martin, a young banker, is backing the new air line and expresses the hope that America will afford an opportunity for him to create an air line operating at least 1,000 planes over various routes.

Prosecute Ghost; Demand In Kansas

GREAT BEND, Kan., June 29—Prosecution of a ghost, on complaint of some of the most substantial citizens of the county, confronted Wayne Lameroux, county attorney, to-day. The complainants swort they had seen the restless spirit and been disturbed by it.

"Go bring in your ghost while I look up the law," Lameroux told Fred Koett, farmer, living near here, on whose place the ghost was seen. "We'll throw him into jail. We might charge him with disturbing the peace."

Since the first of the year strange noises have been heard about the Koett house at night, and on arising the family has found pictures turned to the wall, a statue of the Virgin Mary changed from one wall to another, and doors unlocked.

One night this week neighbors armed with shotguns and pistols lay in ambush for the spirit visitor, and let go a salvoat a film-like something that sailed over the fence, Koett told tne prosecutor. So it was decided to get the law after the plantom visitor.

Even Porch Seat Used In Effort To Hide Booze

In a recent raid in the city, another of the unusual methods of concealing liquor was found.

It had been rumored that the person in charge of the place had five gallons of liquor. The raiding officers hunted high and low and could not find any liquor.

Finally, for some unknown reason, one of the officers of the party picked up an old folding automobile seat on the porch and secreted in the pocket under the seat was found several pints of moonshine.

Naturally an arrest was made and the seat was confiscated and is now one of the many wonderful devices exhibited about the city in the various law enforcement agencies of the city.

Ants, Roaches, Bed-Bugs Killed Quick This Way

A liquid fire applied to bed-bugs, roaches and ants! That's the new chemical discovery—P.D.Q. Can do no damage to your springs, or furniture; won't rot or stain clothing. P.D.Q. is used and recommended by leading hotels, hospitals and railroads as the quickest and safest way of getting rid of pesky insects. Instantly it smothers and kills the living creatures; coats their eggs, and stops them from hatching and multiplying. Decline In Lake Fish To Be Probed

U. S. Experts To Undertake Extensive Survey In July.

WASHINGTON, June 29.—A federal investigation of the cause in the decline of fish catches on the Great Lakes will be undertaken by four experts of the United States fish commission early in July.

The work will be done by authority of an act of Congress which appropriated $10,000 for the purpose. The state of Ohio is now conducting an inquiry to determine what effect pollution has had on the yield in Lake Erie.

The federal experts will inquire into the type of fishing gear used, sizes of meshes in fishing nets and weight of fish withdrawn for commercial use.

Urges U. S. Co-operation

Dr. Charles Fish, director of the New York Society of Natural Sciences, who is studying the situation in Lake Erie, has recommended that the federal government co-operate with state agencies with a view to determining the cause or causes of the decline.

"We are decidedly alarmed over the decline in fish production in the Great Lakes during the past few years", said Lewis Radcliffe, federal deputy commissioner of fisheries. "Our appropriation is small for work of this magnitude and most of it will go for salaries. We shall be pleased, therefore, with any offers of co-operation from states in the lake territory.

"The work to be carried on by Ohio and New York commissions will be very helpful in the study which we are about to make."

Army Air Pilots In Training School

(International News Service)

SAN ANTONIO, June 29.—Steps that will result in raising the standard of instruction in the Air Corps flying schools with a corresponding improvement in the standard of graduating pilots, have been taken in the establishment of an instructors' school, which will be conducted by the Air Corps training center here, according to Brig. Gen. Frank P. Lahm, commander of the training center.

Most of the army pilots here have enrolled for the course which will last four weeks. As soon as the army pilots have completed final tests, pilots stationed regularly at the two fields at San Antonio; Kelly and Brooks fields, will be assigned as students.

General Lahm says the establishment of such an institution will be one of the most important measures taken since the organization of the training center, and will have widespread influence in stimulating flying information, and eliminating carelessness.

Every phase of training, from taxying a plane to performing loops, spins, rolls, and other difficult maneuvers, will be covered in the course.

School Board Decides To Repair Buildings

Board Makes Formal Demand Of Tax Collector For All Taxes By July 5

George Hemmerly Elected New Treasurer For Year At Last Night's Meeting

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., June 29.—At an adjourned meeting of the Board of Education which took place last night in the Lincoln building, the Finance committee suggested that the sum of $5,000 be set aside for the repairing of the Central, Circle and West End school buildings. Byron McCandless, who at the investigation of the board had made a thorough inspection of the needs of these buildings, gave the following report:

West End school needs: Gutters painted, and also conductors, fire escapes repaired, inside walls painted, new blinds, woodwork painted, gymnasium white-washed, metal lath and cement plaster over the boiler, and all the rubbish cleaned out of the basement. He also advised that the tower be eliminated, as it was only an added expense.

Circle building needs: Rebuilt fire-escapes, entire new entry-way, front steps need repainting, roof badly in need of repair. Interior needs washing and painting, new blinds, and outside entrance to the gymnasium does not comply with the law.

The Central building needs: Outside wood-work painted, roof and sheet metal work needs repairing, inside walls painted, sections of blackboard replaced, plaster repaired, radiators painted, flooring defective in rooms 6 and 7 and two rooms without electricity.

At the conclusion of Mr. McCandless's report, the board, after some discussion decided to use the sum of $5,000 for the purpose of fixing these buildings up, and appointed Mr. McCandless as Overseer.

T. A. E. McConaghy, the local Tax Collector was present to explain the slowness of the collecting of delinquent school taxes. The board exonerated him from the collecting of some of the taxes in 1925, but made a formal demand of him to have 1926 taxes paid in to the board by July 5.

According to law a treasurer should be elected in May but owing to the stress of work, the election was deferred until last night when George Hemmerly, who has been a member of the board was unanimously elected treasurer of the board at a salary of $400.

With regard to the work to be done on the school buildings, it was decided to let the contracts to local firms, instead of one concern, and bids for the painting contract will be advertised immediately, as that part of the repair work will be done by one company.

To Grade Grounds

After some discussion it was decided that the grounds around the Lincoln and Hartman school buildings will be graded and will advertise for bids immediately. The pile of junk around the side of the Lincoln building facing short street is an eye-sore and will be removed.

Members of the athletic committee and building committee decided to meet Thursday morning at 7 oclock on the Athletic field to consider what shall be done about fixing that up for use this fall. The athletic fund owes Prof. Earl Davis the sum of 132.78, which he paid out for that work during the past year and voted favorably on paying him same.

The board also decided to permit the 1927 Chautauqua company the use of the Athletic field when they bring their program here the latter part of July.

Members of the Educational committee recommended that William Evans, of Waynesburg, be hired as teacher and assistant athletic coach in the schools at a salary of $1,700. The board voted favorably on this suggestion.

Clear, Fresh Skin Wins Admirers

First impressions are lasting. A woman may be ever so sweet and lovely, but if her skin is dull and lifeless she will always be passed up for the one who knows that the secret of popularity is a youthful, clear complexion.

If your skin is discolored, freckled, tanned and coarse, clear it and revive that satin texture it once had by simply massaging it with the dainty and fragrant lotion which so many women are using. Get a three-ounce bottle of Orchard White from your nearest dealer and squeeze the juice of two lemons into it.

You will never go another day without looking like a fairy queen after you once see how smooth and dewily fresh it keeps your skin.

NERVOUS PEOPLE ARE HALF FED

When you know you have nerves, something is wrong. A well nourished, healthy body should never even know that nerves exist, except for the sensation of feeling. But when your nerves jangle, when you jump at noises, or when you cannot sleep, it is Nature's way of calling for help.

Crying for Food

And it is almost always a safe bet that your nerves are crying for proper food. Your body is not supplying what is needed for the harmony of health. Chances are that the catarrh you have noticed in nose and throat has spread to the stomach. Then, no matter how much you eat, your system does not get the right nourishment. How can it, with the lining of your stomach inflamed and congested?

Because your muscles demand it, the nerves are put on half rations. They let you know it, too. What you need then is to get rid of the catarrh. Thousands have done that with World's Tonic. Not only is it recommended for catarrh, but it tones up the digestion, restores the balance in all processes, and builds you up. When that is done, you can forget you have nerves.

World's Tonic is sold by McKee's, Eckerd's, Paisley's, Smith's and all other good druggists. (213)

Clean up after Picnic—Picnickers should remember to gather up all the rubbish, either burn or bury it, and then put out the last spark of fire before leaving the grounds where they have had an enjoyable time. So many persons think of no one else but themselves and leave a beautiful grove in a condition distasteful to everyone, even to themselves if they should happen to come back again to the same place.

Prepare for Fruit Harvest—Because the fruit harvest is a time of rush and hurry, a time when minutes are precious and delays costly,—growers will find it profitable to prepare picking and packing equipment several weeks before needed. Convenience is necessary, and that is one way of spelling efficiency, say Pennsylvania State College horticulturists.

Check Chick Disease—Watch out for coccidosis in the farm flock. Pale beaks and legs and signs of droopiness are symptoms. Affected chicks stand with eyes closed and hover near the stove or in the corner of the brooder house. Success in controlling the disease depends to a large extent upon finding the trouble and removing the affected chicks at the start.

Give Lawn Good Bath—Do not sprinkle the lawn; give it a good soaking, but only when it really needs one.

NEW CASTLE TO PLAY BEAVER FALLS TONIGHT

New Castle Team To Fight For Victory In Game With League Leaders

LADIES ADMITTED FREE TO GAME

By "BUGS" WALTHER.

The league leading Beaver Falls Elks will be the attraction at Centennial field tonight at 6:15 o'clock against the New Castle O. and P. league team. This is Ladies Free Night at the local ball orchard.

The Elks on their first appearance of the year here grabbed off a 4 to 0 victory. Manager "Molly" Meis or "Lefty" Feigert will more than likely take the knoll tonight to try and even things up a bit. Ed Harvey will more than likely send Hilty or Semler to the box.

The New Castle team has been playing a snappy brand of baseball for the past several games and have advanced to sixth place in the loop standing. New Castle cannot hope to win the flag in the first half of the league race but they will be heard from in the second half of the season.

The directors of the team are very enthusiastic over the recent showing of the club and they predict great things for the next few months. New Castle will add a little strength to the team in the second-half was the indication today. The locals are in need of a good left fielder and they could also use another first-class pitcher.

Playground Teams Play Good Games

The McCreary avenue playground baseball team suffered a defeat yesterday at the hands of the West Side Playground nine. The game ended with the score standing 17 to 24. Chaffee and Burns proved to be the heavy hitters for the victors, while Fabian was the losers' batter of note. Winters pitched a fine game for the losers, while Chaffee and Bigley shared honors for the West Siders.

The Gaston Park Playground nine defeated the Croton Playground aggregation yesterday in a playground league game by the score of 6 to 7. Small, catcher for the winners, brought in the most runs for his team, while Wright, first baseman for the Croton nine, did likewise for his team. A pitching duel was staged between Dennis and Henry, Dennis having six putouts to his credit, with Henry having nine. The game was played at the Gaston playground.

For two years Harvard has had championship hockey teams, but the coach of next year's Crimson sextet will have the difficult job of finding players to fill the shoes of nine of his stars who were lost to the team this year through graduation.

Cornell's Past Glory — By Feg Murray

Each year as the colorful spectacle of an intercollegiate regatta draws near, men speak more and more of "Pop" Courtney, the beloved rowing coach of Cornell University who passed on to the Valhalla where swivel oar-locks are unknown, about six or seven year ago, and let his beloved Cornell slide into the doldrums of defeat. For Courtney was a dominating figure each year in the annual Poughkeepsie race, and while he coached at Cornell, the red-tipped blades of Ithaca ruled the waves and the fame of "Pop" spread wherever men rowed in cedar shells.

A former champion sculler, Courtney "knew his stuff" to the highest degree, and what is more important, he knew how to transplant that knowledge to his pupils. Quiet, modest, and unassuming, with great mechanical and executive ability, "Pop" built great crews on Lake Cayuga, and in so doing made himself a beloved institution at the university on the hill. Strict, yet never known to publicly "bawl out" a student, Courtney proved himself one of the greatest judges of men that ever coached in any sport, and in sportsmanship and in willingness to help an opponent in distress, he stood second to none.

Cornell's red-tipped blades have crossed the finish line first in eleven varsity four-mile races at Poughkeepsie since the first eight-oared crews rowed back in 1900. The Ithacans won in 1901, '02, '03, '05, '06, '07, '09, '10, '11, '12 and '15. Then the Mighty began to fall and Cornell, after finishing second in 1916 and 1920, finished third in 1921, fourth the next two years, third again in 1924, fifth in 1925, and last in 1926!

Pennsylvania has won only once. The Red and Blue's long victory occurred in the first regatta, held in 1900. Syracuse, not given a chance in today's race, has won five times, in 1904, 1908, 1913, 1916, and 1920. Columbia was the gem of the Poughkeepsie in 1914. The last six races have been divided equally between the Navy and Washington, both invited participants. The middies were second to the Huskies last year and in 1923, and just the opposite was the case in 1922 and 1925.

It's about time that the crews of some of the other institutions grabbed off the glory. Will it be Columbia or Penn this year—or California?

College Crews To Battle For Rowing Championship

BY DAVIS J. WALSH
Sports Editor Internat'al News Service

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., June 29.—Four miles of water—no longer than four hundred to the tortured senses of those who must span them not a bit more tedious than a continuous punch on the nose—today separate one varsity crew in seven from the greatest honor within the gift of collegiate rowing.

One crew only can win the great Poughkeepsie race late this afternoon but seven will try until the effort no longer is a conscious one but just a blurred, red mist of pain. And as they come down to the finish in the jagged, reaching effort of so many contenders in the throes of their final agony a typical race day crowd of 75,000 will see something that will live in their memories henceforth and forever.

That spectacle of co-ordinated effort by men, stripped to the waist and trained down to their arteries in order that they might make the supreme bid of their fine yiung lives, is always new even to old eyes that have seen it enacted again and again with the passing years. The man who hasn't seen the finish of the boat race at Poughkeepsie simply has neglected his education.

Seven Schools in Race.

Named in the order of their prerace importance the field in the varsity race will be made up of the following:

1, the Navy; 2, California; 3, Washington; 4, Columbia; 5, Cornell; 6, Syracuse; 7, Pennsylvania.

Experts, gibbering over their charts seem to have arrived at the almost unanimous decision that the Middies are due. If it so develops that famed Washington system will be in for another flag raising. The system, in fact hardy can go wrong since Washington men—Bob Butler, Ky Ebright and Rusty Callow respectively—are in charge of rowing at Annapolis, California and Washinton itself and if the winner falls outside this trio, those bleak, sheer hills on the highland side will fairly tremble under the shock.

However barring the slight possibility of Columbia or Cornell rising to overnight greatness, the big three of the river are likely to be the same potent trinity by nightfall.

The Navy, unbeaten this year in the east is carrying most of the bets because it seems to have a fool-proof eight and a great stroke in Tom Eddy. As far as that goes, the Middies nowadays never have a poor crew or a poor stroke and although Callow has been quietly weeping on his vest over the outlook the same observation applies to Washington.

Big Racing Track Ready In October

CHARLOTTE, N. C., June 29.—Whether or not the Charlotte Speedway, until a few months ago the South's biggest automobile racing bowl, will be reopened was still a matter of speculation today.

The new owners of the giant oval that bid in the property recently announced that they will make known their decision within the next few weeks.

Should they decided to reopen the Speedway, it is not likely that an A. A. A. race will be held here before October, it was stated.

Ellwood City Team Defeated

Neshannocks Register 9-8 Victory Over Ellwood Tuesday Night

RACEY PITCHES FOR ELLWOOD

Neshannocks defeated Ellwood City, nine to eight, at Coaltown yesterday evening and advanced in the Lawrence County League as the result of scoring five runs in the first and four in the third. Ellwood scored three in the third, one in the seventh and almost deadlocked the score when they made four more in the seventh. Racey pitched for Ellwood City.

Manager Doherty, it is understood, has been asked repeatedly for a statement, supported by affidavits, that Racey is eligible to play in the Lawrence County League, but so far has not presented the statement to the commissioners.

Should Racey not be eligible, it is probable that the games in which Racey has participated will be changed should the commission hand down such a decision. Manager Doherty claims Racey is eligible, but Wampum has filed two protests on two games in which he has played.

Mackie pitched against Racey, and like Racey, was wild. Each fanned three batsmen and allowed the same number of hits. Ellwood had one more error than the Neshanocks. Patterson delivered two doubles and Volpe hit one two-base hit. The box score:

VETERAN HELPS WHITE SOX WIN

BY LES CONKLIN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, June 29.—The American League race appears to be "in the bag" for the New York Yankees, who are in front by ten games today. They squelched the Athletics again yesterday, 9 to 8, the Mackmen barely failing to tie the score in a sensational ninth-inning rally in which they pounded Shocker, Moore and Pennock for eight runs. The victory evened the series.

Lou Gehrig's 100th hit of the year was his 23rd homer and he needs only one more to tie the injured Ruth.

Pitching honors of the day went to General Alvin Crowder of the Senators, who held the Red Sox to two hits and drove in the winning runs with a double. The score was 4 to 0 and marked Boston's tenth straight defeat.

Lena Blackburne, a star with the White Sox a dozen years ago and now a coach ,appeared as a pinch hitter against Cleveland, driving in the tying run in the ninth and scoring the winning tally. Score 8 to 7.

After staking the Cardinals to a five-run lead, the Pirates beat them out, 9 to 8, by sheer hitting power, and increased their lead to 1½ games. Eight pitchers were used.

With Rixey on the mound, the Reds polished off the Cubs, 8 to 1. Outfielder Zitzmann played at shortstop for Cincy in place of Paul Wanninger, who has been returned to St. Paul.

The Phillies harpooned the slipping Giants, 7 to 3. Hornsby hit his fourteenth homer.

The speeding Tigers took both twins of a twin bill from the Browns, 9 to 3 and 6 to 3. Heilmann pounded out five hits for twelve bases.

The Robins and Braves were idle.

Tommy Armour, the new United States open golf champion, was wounded four times during the war while fighting as a major in the British tank corps.

The first no-hit no-run game in the big league was pitched by Borden of the Boston team against Chicago, July 28, 1875.

SPORTS DONE BROWN

By NORMAN E. BROWN

The lack of the "fighting spirit" in baseball has been decried for many months. Those close to the ground in the game have been frank in their assertions that there is too much "visiting," hobnobbing and offday golf matches among players.

Now we seem to be getting more "fight."

But as might be expected the "fight" is coming in the wrong place—the added spirit is being misdirected.

First came the disgusting episode in which Earl Smith knocked out Dave Bancroft, Braves' manager, with one punch to the jaw. The affair was the direct result of a "riding match" started as only Earl Smith can start 'em.

Then Milton Gaston, St. Louis pitcher, suddenly imbued with a spirit of earnest antagonism, leaped over the grand stand rail and raised havoc with a spectator whom Gaston accused of riding him.

After that came an exchange of pleasantries between Frank Hogan, young Boston catcher, and Heinie Mueller, Giant outfielder. This affair would have assumed serious proportions, had not the bulkier Hogan taken a humorous view of Mueller's wrath and turned him aside with a tweak on the nose. Hogan would have annihilated Mueller had he accepted combat, conveyed by a punch to the jaw.

This isn't the kind of fighting spirit long sought. This is plain rowdyism (barring Mr. Hogan's coolness under fire. Spectacles like the Smith-Bancroft affair will not do baseball any good. Prospects of peeved players vaulting grandstands to vent their feelings will not aid the game.

Neither will the actions of fans in provoking such players to overt acts elevate the pastime.

The only "fighting spirit" wanted in baseball or any other sport is the desire to win, fairly and honestly—and in a sportsmanlike manner. The desire to place one's team ahead of all others—at the expense of personal glory or emoluments.

Bring on that kind of spirit. But let's eliminate the other before it goes any further—

Even if one of two belligerent souls have to be banished from pennant contending teams.

The PRESSURE GAUGE

MANUFACTURERS of Automobiles are careful to lay great stress upon the importance of oil pressure as indicated by the pressure gauge upon the dash. It should always register maximum, else trouble begins. Proper register is obtained and maintained by the use of proper oil of required grade. As the oil is diluted by passage of unburnt fuel past the piston rings, the pressure becomes weaker and nearer the danger point. The sealing of piston rings with the oil from the crank case against this unburnt fuel prolongs the quality of the oil. Many good motor oils will provide the proper seal and if the motorist knows what brand will accomplish this requirement, he is safe in his purchase.

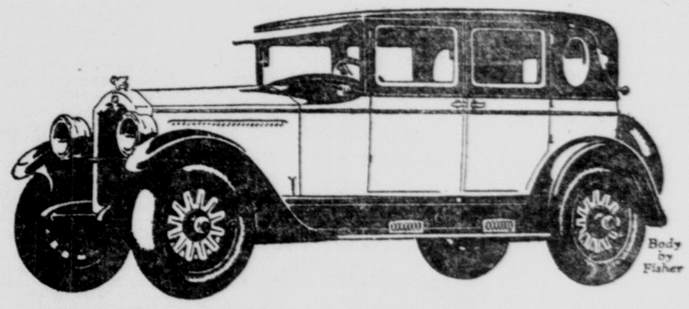

THAT NEW IMPROVED SUPREME MOTOR OIL is manufactured for the express purpose of efficiently lubricating internal combustion motors. It possesses the body or viscosity for oil pressure—it provides a tough lubricating film on cylinder walls and bearings and sustains a more impenetrable seal around piston rings.

344,679 car owners

say Buick will be their next car

A general and impartial survey of automobile owners recently conducted by a great organization, shows that 344,679 owners of other cars intend to change to Buick next time they buy a car.

These owners have compared their cars with Buick—in performance, in economy, in comfort, luxury and dependability. And they have decided that Buick offers greater value.

They have driven Buicks, and know the flexibility, power and efficiency of Buick's famous six-cylinder Valve-in-Head engine, which is vibrationless beyond belief at any speed.

Examine a Buick at your earliest opportunity. Find out why so many owners of other cars are changing to Buick every day.

HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY

Registered U. S. Patent Office.

The Siege of Vicksburg—(Continued). by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD

SLOWLY BUT STEADILY, THE UNION LINES DREW TIGHTER AROUND THE BELEAGUERED CITY OF VICKSBURG. BY THE 4TH OF JUNE, 1863, THE FEDERALS HAD ADVANCED THEIR INTRENCHMENTS AT SEVERAL POINTS TO WITHIN 150 YARDS OF THE CONFEDERATE WORKS.

SO CLOSE WERE THE OPPOSING ARMIES THAT AT NIGHT THE PICKETS OF EACH SIDE, SENT OUT TO WATCH IN FRONT OF THEIR RESPECTIVE LINES, WERE ABLE TO CONVERSE WITH ONE ANOTHER IN THE DARKNESS.

THE FEDERALS ADVANCED THEIR LINES TOWARD THE CONFEDERATE WORKS UNDER COVER OF HUGE WICKER CYLINDERS KNOWN AS SAP-ROLLERS. THESE WERE STUFFED WITH COTTON TO MAKE THEM BULLET PROOF.

TO OFFSET THIS MENACE, THE DEFENDERS IMPROVISED INCENDIARY BULLETS OF PORT-FIRE AND COTTON SATURATED WITH TURPENTINE, WHICH, WHEN FIRED FROM A LARGE-BORE MUSKET INTO A SAP-ROLLER, SET THE COTTON PACKING AFIRE. THE DESTRUCTION OF THE ROLLER EXPOSED THE FEDERAL SAPPERS AND FORCED THEM TO RETREAT TO SHELTER.

N. Y. STOCKS

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, June 29.—The Industrial stocks felt the weight of selling pressure at the beginning of trading today, and prices in most of the active sections of the market turned irregularly downward. Baldwin's 7-point decline to 219 in the first period reflecting the announced reduction in operations to 10 percent of capacity of the company's plants. Money market conditions were also favorable to the bears.

Prospects of an early decision in the Chesapeake and Ohio-Nickle Plate consolidation helped to steady the railroad stocks and offerings of the better grade of rails were light. Car loadings in the week of June 18 were 11,945 less than in the preceding week and 20,292 less than the corresponding week of last year, crude oil production set a new high record at 2,510,000 barrels daily last week. The over-production is becoming a heavy burden as the season progresses.

WASHINGTON, June 29.—A new radio hornet's nest has been stirred up by the virtual refusal of the federal radio commission to permit the operator of a broadcasting by the fellowship forum a protestant fraternal publication widely supported by the Ku Klux Klan.

The station already is in the course of construction, it having been the intention to go on the air early next month with a 10,000 watt transmitter, sufficient to give it a national range.
